

References

- Ash, Timothy Garton. Free Speech: Ten Principles for a Connected World (New Haven: Yale University Press, 2016)
- Ferejohn, John A. and William Eskridge. A Republic of Statutes: The New American Constitution (Princeton: Yale University Press, 2010)
- Issacharoff, Samuel. Fragile Democracies: Contested Power in the Era of Constitutional Courts (New York: Cambridge University Press, 2015)
- Meiklejohn, Alexander. Free Speech and its Relation to Self-Government (Clark, NJ: The Lawbook Exchange Ltd., 1948)
- Meiklejohn, Alexander. 'Free Speech Is an Absolute', 1961 Supreme Court Review 245 (1961)
- Müller, Jan-Werner. 'Militant Democracy', in Oxford Handbook of Comparative Constitutional Law (Michel Rosenfeld and András Sajó eds., Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2012)
- Schauer, Frederick. 'Rights, Constitutions, and the Perils of Panglossism', 38 Oxford Journal of Legal Studies (forthcoming 2018)
- Stacey, Richard. 'The Magnetism of Moral Reasoning and the Principle of Proportionality in Comparative Constitutional Adjudication', American Journal of Comparative Law (forthcoming 2018)
- Tushnet, Mark, Joseph Blocher, and Alan Chen. Free Speech beyond Words: The Surprising Reach of the First Amendment (New York: New York University Press, 2017)
- Waldron, Jeremy. The Harm in Hate Speech (Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press, 2012)
- Waldron, Jeremy. 'Heckle: To Disconcert with Questions, Challenges, or Gibes' 2017 Supreme Court Review 1 (2017)