

Content

1. INTRODUCTION	11
2. LEAST DEVELOPED COUNTRIES	14
2.1. Historical background	15
2.2. Designation low-income countries as least developed	18
2.3. Special support measures for the least developed countries	23
2.3.1 Support measures and special treatment related to trade with LDC	23
2.3.1.1 Preferential market access	23
2.3.1.2 Special and differential treatment related to WTO obligations	24
2.3.1.3 Support measures related to capacity-building in trade	24
2.3.2 Official development assistance	25
2.3.2.1 Bilateral assistance	25
2.3.2.2 Multilateral assistance	26
2.3.3 Other forms of assistance	28
3. LDCs IN COMPARISON WITH OTHER COUNTRY GROUPINGS	29
3.1 LDC economic situation	29
3.1.1 Structure of economy	30
3.1.2 LDCs in international trade	33
3.1.3 Foreign direct investments	35
3.1.4 Official development assistance	36
3.1.5 Remittances	37
3.2 Indicators of health	39
3.3 Other indicators	43
4. POPULATION PROBLEM OF DEVELOPING COUNTRIES	49
4.1 World population development	49
4.2 Population problem solution	55
4.3 Human population is getting older	60

4.4	Population in 2050	62
4.5	Population in 2100	67
5.	FOOD PROBLEM OF DEVELOPING COUNTRIES	68
5.1	Food consumption level	69
5.2	World population nutrition	73
5.3	Food production level	76
5.4	Factors in malnutrition	84
5.5	Reasons of the food problem	89
5.6	Food problem solution in time	97
5.7	Organizations aimed at the solution	103
6.	CASE OF BURUNDI	109
6.1	Economy	109
6.2	Food production	113
6.3	Constraints to food production	117
6.3.1	Low agricultural productivity	117
6.3.2	Land degradation	118
6.3.3	Low use of modern inputs	119
6.3.4	Poor water management	120
6.3.5	Inadequate agricultural research and extension services	121
6.3.6	High input prices	121
6.3.7	Low and variable output prices and poorly developed markets	122
6.3.8	Poor access to credit	123
6.3.9	Post-harvest and processing constraints and limited infrastructure	123
6.4	Conditions for growth of food production	125
6.4.1	Boosting agricultural production and productivity	125
6.4.2	Resolving the land and IDP's conflict	127
6.4.3	Developing agricultural and non-agricultural income generating activities	129
6.4.4	Controlling population density	131
6.4.5	Protecting environment	131
6.4.6	Government agricultural strategy	133

6.5	Food situation overview	134
6.5.1	Food production and consumption on national level	136
6.5.2	Food consumption on household level	139
6.5.2.1	Burundi Vulnerability Analysis Survey	139
6.5.2.2	Burundi Comprehensive Food Security & Vulnerability Analysis	143
6.5.2.3	Vulnerability and Food Insecurity in Three Urban Areas of Burundi	145
7.	CONCLUSION	147
8.	RESOURCES	150
9.	LIST OF ANNEXES	156