

CONTENTS

6 BEAUTIFUL CALIFORNIA

A fortunate state, it compresses within its boundaries the scenic features of a continent.

10 THE NORTH COAST

Redwood trees thrive in cathedral-like groves, and the sea pounds against a jagged shore.

26 THE NORTH BAY AREA

Fragrant vineyards spread over a pastoral land, and cities and towns look on a white-capped bay.

42 THE EAST BAY AREA

Metropolitan communities climb to a wooded parkland that spills over into rolling hills.

54 SAN FRANCISCO

A magical, sparkling city of changeable moods clings to the hills beside the Golden Gate.

80 PENINSULA AND SOUTH BAY AREA

A forested ridge divides a checkerboard of busy cities from the sparsely populated coast.

All rights reserved throughout the world.
Copyright © 1969, 1963 by Lane Magazine & Book
Company, Menlo Park, California.
Library of Congress Catalog Number: 63-11739.
SBN Title Number: 376-05032-2
Second Edition, First Printing April 1969

96 THE CENTRAL COAST

Below the tamed Monterey Peninsula lies a lonely land of ghostly fogs and wind-swept bluffs.

114 SANTA BARBARA

The Spanish past is still discernible here between a sheltered harbor and gentle, oak-studded hills.

126 THE SOUTH COAST

Public beaches, fishing piers, small craft harbors, and seaside towns cluster at the ocean's edge.

142 LOS ANGELES

An imaginative, creative, and lively city spreads from the base of the mountains to the sea.

172 SAN DIEGO

In the shadow of tumbled mountains, a busy port city embraces a magnificent landlocked harbor.

194 THE DESERT

Its stillness, haunting beauty, and violent extremes cast their spell over all who know it well.

206 THE SOUTHERN MOUNTAINS

They rise from palms and cactus, through chaparral-covered hills, to a forested playground.

216 THE SIERRA NEVADA

Majestic granite domes and towering peaks crown an unforgettable mountain domain.

250 THE GOLD COUNTRY

The ghostly presence of the Forty-niners is felt in the towns and hamlets of the Sierra's foothills.

264 THE CENTRAL VALLEY

A great tapestry of cultivated fields, pastureland, and orchards spreads between the mountains.

276 THE NORTHERN MOUNTAINS

Solitary peaks and craggy ridges pierce the sky above a land of isolated lakes and still forests.

*Photographs below (left to right) by:
Richard Dawson, Josef Muench, Richard Dawson,
Martin Litton, John Robinson.*