

Content

| | | |
|------------|--|------------|
| 1. | Introduction | 8 |
| 2. | Objectives and Hypotheses | 17 |
| 3. | Foreign Direct Investments | 19 |
| 4. | The Impact of Political Risk on FDI | 36 |
| 5. | FDI and Labor Market - Czech Republic | 71 |
| 6. | FDI and Employment - Czech Republic | 97 |
| 7. | The Czech Labor Market and Unemployment | 112 |
| 8. | The Analytical Part of the Research | 124 |
| | IPS Test for Unit Root: | 124 |
| | Johansen Fisher Co-Integration Test: | 126 |
| | Vector Error Correction Model (VECM) | 127 |
| | Impulse Response Functions | 129 |
| | Johansen Fisher Co-integration Test | 131 |
| | Vector Error Correction Model | 135 |
| | Impulse response Functions | 139 |
| 9. | Conclusion | 141 |
| 10. | Index | 144 |
| 11. | Bibliography: | 146 |

List of Figures

| | |
|---|----|
| Phases of FDI inflows in Central Europe | 27 |
| Advantages giving rise to FDI | 32 |
| Classification of Political Risk | 40 |
| Normative Model of Macro Political Risk Assessment | 42 |
| Examples of political risk | 45 |
| Management Strategies for Country-Related Risks | 50 |
| Constraints on Foreign investment in Emerging Markets | 51 |
| Political Risks in Emerging Markets | 52 |
| Tools used to Mitigate Political Risk in Emerging Markets | 53 |
| Top Political Risk for Investors from the BRICs | 54 |
| Government Policy Areas and Instruments | 55 |
| Country Risk Assessment Criteria | 56 |
| Classification of FDI determinants | 58 |
| Top Investors Concerns about Foreign Direct Investments | 59 |

List of Tables

| | |
|---|-----|
| Table 1 Results from Im-Pesaran-Shin (IPS) test: | 130 |
| Table 2 Results from Johansen Fisher Co-Integration test: | 132 |
| Table 3 Results from Johansen Fisher Co-Integration test: | 133 |
| Table 4 Results from Johansen Fisher Co-Integration test: | 134 |
| Table 5 Results from Vector Error Correction Model (VECM) | 136 |
| Table.6 Wald Test I | 137 |
| Table 7 Wald Test II | 138 |