

Contents

Introduction	i
1. THE TRUTH OF THE PAST: DISCIPLINE, DESIRE, UTOPIA
Mark Poster Cultural History and the Discipline	1
Natalie Zemon Davis Stories and the Hunger to Know: In Lieu of Introduction	5
Natalie Zemon Davis Censorship, Silence and Resistance: The Annales during the German Occupation of France	9
István Rév In Mendacio Veritas	32
Stephen Greenblatt Utopian Desire	54
2. SHIFTING BOUNDARIES: PERIODS AND CANONS BETWEEN IDEOLOGY AND POPULAR CULTURE
Jerome J. McGann Rethinking Romanticism	73

Denis Bonnecase The First Generation Poets: Historicity, Neurosis, Private Mythology	99
Ian Frederick Moulton Stratford and Bayreuth: Anti-Commercialism, Nationalism and the Religion of Art	117
Chandra Mukerji Shakespeare in L.A.: A Commentary on "Shakespeare and Modern Commercial Culture"	133
3. "HISTORY THAT HAUNTS THE TEXT": RUINS AND HETEROTOPIAS
Aleida Assmann "Ruin Hath Taught Me Thus To Ruminatē": Literary Reflections on Ruins	155
John J. Joughin Shakespeare's Other Spaces: Counter-sites of Measure for Measure	171
4. THE OTHER IN HISTORY: LANGUAGE, COMMUNICATION, ACCULTURATION
Louis Armand Spectres of Sovereignty	193
Ondřej Pilný Narrative and Communication: The Case of Brian Friel and Field Day	213
Nicholas Grene Black Pastoral: 1990s Images of Ireland	243

Clare Wallace
"A Crossroads Between Worlds": Marina Carr and the Use of Tragedy 256

Michael C. Frank
"I Could Never Grow Native": The Acculturation Taboo in Edmund Spenser and Robert James Fletcher 275

5. DIASPORIC NARRATIVES

Roger Bromley
*Belonging beyond the Nation: The Role of Diasporic
Narrative Communities* 295

Thomas Claviez
*Cosmopolitanism and its Discontents: The Politics of Sherman Alexie's Reservation Blues and Leslie Marmon Silko's
Almanac of the Dead* 327

6. ENDS OF HISTORY?

AMERICA AS MYTH, EMPIRE AND APOCALYPSE

Sacvan Bercovitch
The Myth of America 345

Faye Ringel
Medievalism and Imperialism in American Gothic 370

Martin Procházka
Apocalypticism in American Cultural History 391

Notes on Contributors 437