

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Preface	xi
Chapter 1 California's Distinctiveness	1
Chapter 2 The Native Americans	9
Chapter 3 Exploring Baja and Alta California	21
Chapter 4 Colonizers of the Frontier	32
Chapter 5 Missions, Presidios, and Pueblos	40
Chapter 6 California and Its Spanish Governors	47
Chapter 7 Exploration and Foreign Interference	51
Chapter 8 Arcadia	58
Chapter 9 Mexican California	65
Chapter 10 Infiltration and Revolt	73
Chapter 11 On the Eve of American Rule	79
Chapter 12 Trappers, Traders, and Homeseekers	85
Chapter 13 American Conquest	98
Chapter 14 Gold	107
Chapter 15 Approaches to Statehood	120
Chapter 16 Social Ferment	125
Chapter 17 A New Culture at the Golden Gate	133

Chapter 18	Post-Gold Rush Commerce	141
Chapter 19	The Messy Land Problem	150
Chapter 20	California and the Union	156
Chapter 21	Ships and Rails	165
Chapter 22	Agricultural and Urban Growth	171
Chapter 23	Discrimination and Accommodation	182
Chapter 24	Crushing or Saving the Indians?	191
Chapter 25	Labor, the Farmers, and the New Constitution	202
Chapter 26	California Culture, 1870–1918	207
Chapter 27	Progressive Politics	221
Chapter 28	Material Urban Growth	232
Chapter 29	Water, Conservation, and Agriculture	245
Chapter 30	Labor in an Industrial Age	254
Chapter 31	The Depression Years	261
Chapter 32	Twentieth-Century Culture	273
Chapter 33	Sports and Leisure	293
Chapter 34	Wartime Setbacks and Gains	301
Chapter 35	World War II and Its Aftermath	310
Chapter 36	The Beleaguered Sixties	322
Chapter 37	Environmental Realities	333
Chapter 38	From Reagan Conservatism to “Governor Moonbeam”	347
Chapter 39	A New Ethnicity	354
Chapter 40	From the Great Recession to the Rise of Silicon Beach	363
Chapter 41	Glowing Past Versus Troubled Future	369
Appendix	The Governors of California	380
	Index of Authors in Selected Readings	386
	Subject Index	399