

Contents

Acknowledgements	vi
Introduction: The Aesthetics of Education	1
Chapter One: From Stultification to Emancipation: Althusser avec Rancière	22
Chapter Two: Aesthetic Forms: Teaching, Theatre, and Democracy	39
Chapter Three: The Beautiful and the Sublime in the Pedagogy of the Oppressed	56
Intermission: Equality, Freedom, and Emancipation: A Case for Pedagogical Dramaturgy	73
Chapter Four: The Aesthetics of Curiosity	88
Chapter Five: The Knowledge of Ignorance	115
Chapter Six: The Future of the Image in Critical Pedagogy	137
Chapter Seven: Freire's Last Laugh	154
Conclusion: Death and Democracy in Education: Freire's Easter Revisited	174
Bibliography	182
Index	190