

---

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	1
What can be learned from this manual?	1
Who is this manual for?	2
Adaptation of the text	2
The need for tolerance and acceptance	2
The mental health of the helpers	2
Unit 1. Useful helping skills	3
Becoming an effective helper	3
Nine steps to develop a treatment plan	5
Unit 2. Stress and relaxation	16
Why people find themselves under high levels of stress	16
How to recognize people with high levels of stress	18
Advising people how to deal with stress	21
Dealing with stress through group activities in the family or in the community	22
Educating people about stress	23
Teaching relaxation exercises	25
Physical exercise	27
Simple massage	27
Ways of improving sleep	28
Breathing exercises	29
Other ways to cope with stress	31
Unit 3. Functional complaints	32
What are functional complaints?	33
How to recognize underlying serious psychological or psychiatric disorders	34
How to help people with functional complaints	36
Unit 4. Common mental disorders	39
Five general rules for identifying and managing mental illness in refugees	39

Interviewing to identify the causes of mental illness	41
Depression	42
Acute psychosis	46
Chronic or long-term psychosis	48
Mental disorders caused by hurtful and frightening events	52
Mental disorders caused by beatings or other injuries to the head	55
Emotional disturbances associated with intense fear and worry	58
Emotional disturbances related to poor sleep	61
Unit 5. Helping refugee children	63
Looking after the mental health of refugee children	64
The special needs of refugee children	65
Building a cultural framework	66
Changes in child-rearing practices	67
How to recognize the mental health problems of children	68
Helping young children and mothers	69
Helping the preschool child	74
Helping children of school age	76
The mental health needs of young people aged 12–18 years	79
Three common problems	80
Notes for camp administrators	86
Unit 6. Traditional medicine and traditional healers	89
The different kinds of traditional practitioner	90
How to build cooperation with traditional practitioners	92
How to choose traditional healers to work with you	93
How to deal with quacks and dangerous traditional practices	94
Traditional medicine and the mentally ill	95
Notes for camp administrators	98
Unit 7. Alcohol and other drug problems	101
How alcohol and other drug problems can occur	101
What you can do	102
Problems that may arise when alcohol and other drugs are used	107
Unit 8. Helping victims of torture and other violence	110
How to recognize people who have been subjected to severe forms of violence	111
How to recognize in yourself the effects of having been treated violently	112
How to help individuals who have suffered serious violence	116

CONTENTS

---

Unit 9. Helping victims of rape and their communities	123
Some facts about rape and rape trauma	123
How to recognize rape victims	125
How to help rape victims	126
Support groups	128
More suggestions for relief workers	129
Notes for camp administrators	131
Unit 10. The organization of services that promote the     mental health and well-being of refugees	133