

CONTENTS

Preface	ix
Principal Abbreviations	xxiii

INTRODUCTION

I. Information from Tradition	3-13
A. Designation as Catholic Epistles and Epistles of John	3
B. Attitudes toward These Epistles in the First Five Centuries	5
1. Possible Echoes before A.D. 175	6
2. From the Late Second Century to the Fifth Century	9
II. Problems of Johannine Authorship	14-35
A. Did the Same Author Write All Three Epistles?	14
1. Common Authorship for II John and III John?	15
2. Common Authorship for II John and I John?	16
B. Did the Same Author Write the Fourth Gospel and the Epistles?	19
1. The Argument for Common Authorship Based on Similarities in Style	20
2. The Argument against Common Authorship Based on Differences in Style	21
3. The Argument against Common Authorship Based on Differences in Thought	25
4. The Argument against Common Authorship Based on Differences in Life Situation	28
C. In What Sequence Were the Gospel and the Epistles Written?	30
1. Sequence among the Epistles	30
(a) Was II John or III John Composed First?
(b) Was I John or II John Composed First?

2. Sequence of GJohn and I John	32
(a) Arguments for the Priority of I John
(b) Arguments for the Priority of GJohn
III. Source Theories for the Origin of I John	36-46
A. The German Theory of an Antithetical-Statement Source	36
1. E. von Dobschütz	36
2. R. Bultmann	38
3. After Bultmann	41
B. Other Source Theories	43
1. W. Nauck	43
2. J. C. O'Neill	45
IV. Origin of I and II John in a Struggle with Adversaries	47-68
A. Which Views in I and II John Belong to the Adversaries?	47
B. Reconstructed Portrait of the Adversaries	49
1. One Well-defined Group?	49
2. The Theological Positions of the Adversaries	50
(a) Christology
(b) Ethical Behavior and Attitudes
3. Comparison to Known Heresies	55
(a) Groups Condemned Elsewhere in the NT
(b) Docetic Opponents of Ignatius of Antioch
(c) Second-century Gnostics
(d) Cerinthians
V. The Theory Adopted in this Commentary	69-115
A. Brief Statement of the Theory	69
B. The Secessionists' Relation to the Fourth Gospel	71
1. Methodological Cautions	72
2. Christology—Secessionist and Fourth Gospel	73
(a) Negating the Importance of Jesus
(b) Not Acknowledging Christ Come in the Flesh and in Blood
3. Ethics—Secessionist and Fourth Gospel	79
(a) Lack of Emphasis on Moral Behavior
(b) Perfectionist Freedom from Sin
(c) Love of the Brethren

C. The Epistolary Author's Relation to the Fourth Gospel	86
1. Literary Genre of I John	86
(a) Universal Religious Tractate
(b) Circular Epistle
(c) Homily; Diatribe; Informal Tractate; Pastoral Encyclical
(d) Comment Patterned on GJohn
2. Polemic and Argumentation Employed in I John	92
(a) Reuse of GJohn Polemic
(b) Style of Correcting
(c) The "We" of the Johannine School
(d) "From the Beginning"—Older Johannine Theology
3. Date and Locale of the Epistles	100
D. The Aftermath	103
1. The Secessionist Path toward Gnosticism	104
2. The Path from the Epistles to the Great Church	106
(a) III John and Church Order
(b) The Epistles and the Redaction of GJohn
(c) Evidence from the Church Writers
VI. Structure and Text	116-130
A. The Structure of I John	116
1. Recognition of Units	118
2. Organization of Units through Thought Patterns	119
3. Organization of Units through Analogy with Other Writings	122
(a) Miscellaneous Suggestions
(b) GJohn as a Structural Model
B. The Text of the Epistles	129
VII. General Bibliography for the Johannine Epistles	131-146
A. Bibliographies; Surveys	131
B. Commentaries or General Analyses	131
1. Earlier Commentaries	131
2. Recent Works	132
C. Epistolary Theology	135
1. General Works	135

2. Specific Theological Topics	136
(a) "Abiding, remaining" ( menein )
(b) "Life" ( zōē )
(c) "Love" ( agapan, agapē, agapētos )
(d) "Sin" ( hamartia )
(e) "Truth" ( alētheia )
D. Authorship Issues	138
E. Source Theories	139
F. Life and Setting of the Community	140
1. History	140
2. House-Churches	143
3. Adversaries (in General)	143
4. Specific Adversaries	143
G. Structure of I John	144
H. Text	145
I. Miscellaneous Works Cited in this Commentary	145

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF JOHN

THE PROLOGUE	149-188
1. The Prologue (1:1-4)	151
PART ONE	189-436
2. The Gospel of God as Light; Three Boasts and Three Opposite Hypotheses (1:5-2:2)	191
3. Three Claims of Intimate Knowledge of God to be Tested by Behavior (2:3-11)	247
4. Admonitions to Believers: Having Conquered the Evil One, They Must Resist the World (2:12-17)	293
5. Warning against the Secessionists as Antichrists who Deny the Son and the Father (2:18-27)	329
6. God's Children versus the Devil's Children (2:28-3:10)	378
PART TWO	437-604
7. The Gospel of Loving One Another (3:11-24)	439
8. The Spirits of Truth and of Deceit, and Their Respective Adherents (4:1-6)	485

9. Loving One Another as a Way of Abiding in and Loving God (4:7-5:4a)	512
10. Faith as Conqueror of the World and the Role of Testimony (5:4b-12)	569
THE CONCLUSION	605-642
11. The Conclusion (5:13-21)	607

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF JOHN

12. The Second Epistle	645-698
------------------------	---------

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN

13. The Third Epistle	699-752
-----------------------	---------

APPENDIXES

Appendix I: Charts	755
Chart One: Similarities between II-III John and the Other Johannine Writings	755
Chart Two: Similarities between I John and GJohn	757
Chart Three: Bultmann's Reconstructed Source for I John	760
Chart Four: Epistolary Statements Pertinent to the Adversaries' Views	762
Chart Five: Sample Proposed Divisions of I John	764
Chart Six: Outline of I John	765
Appendix II: Cerinthus	766
Appendix III: The Epistle(s) to the Parthians	772
Appendix IV: The Johannine Comma	775
Appendix V: General Observations on Epistolary Format	788

INDEXES

Bibliographic Index of Authors	797
Subject Index	804
Index of Greek Words	811