

Contents

Table of Cases	vii
Table of Legislation	xv
Editors and Contributors	xix
Preface by Mark Stephens	xxiii

Part I The Legal, Ethical and Editorial Landscape

1 Privacy: A Judicial Perspective David Eady	3
2 The Rights of Journalism and the Needs of Audiences Onora O'Neill	35
3 Why We Write: Three Magic Words – 'The Public Interest' Alan Rusbridger	46

Part II The Practitioner's View – Protecting Free Expression and Curbing Abuses

4 The Ultimate Balancing Test Pia Sarma	63
5 Privacy Protection – Luxury Goods or Essential Commodity? Amber Melville-Brown	78
6 'People are so much more interesting than things': Protecting Free Expression Gavin Millar QC	104
7 'You say tomato ...': A Comparison of English and US Privacy Law Principles Robert Balin and Yuli Takatsuki	128

Part III Confronting Current and Future Challenges

8 Privacy and Free Expression: Competing or Complementary Rights? Michael Harris and Kirsty Hughes	151
9 The Internet as a Lens: Concepts of Privacy in Online Spaces Jeffrey Hermes	167
Index	193