Preface		ix
Introduction		1
Cell structure	The cell wall	3
	Pit connections	3
	Cytoplasm and vacuolation	4
	The nucleus	4
	Chloroplasts, pigments and coloration	5
	Reserve materials and storage products	6
	Specialized cells	6
Morphology	Morphology of the Bangiophyceae	7
	Morphology of the Florideophyceae	8
	Regeneration	14
	Galls and tumour-like growths	14
	Rhizoids, tendrils and attachment structures	15
	Cell and tissue adhesions and fusions	16
Reproduction in Florideophyceae	Gametangia and gamete formation	17
	The carposporophyte and its development	19
	Other sporangia	21
Reproduction in Bangiophyceae	Sporangia and spore formation	23
	Evidence for sexual reproduction in Bangiophyceae	26
Life histories	Life histories in the algae	28
	Life histories in the Florideophyceae	30
	Life histories in the Bangiophyceae	33
	Theoretical and biological life histories	34

Economic utilization	Red algae as human food	35
	Commercial extracts from red algae	36
	The use of coralline algae for soil dressing	38
Ecology and distribution	Ecological factors	38
	Biological interactions	47
	Zonation	51
	Environmental control of growth and reproduction	53
	Biological forms	56
	Distribution in the British Isles	57
Systematics	Historical introduction	59
	The systematics of the Rhodophyta	60
	References for Introduction	62
