

MEETING THE OTHER
Studies in comparative history

CONTENTS

Luďa Klusáková – Karel Kubiš – Introduction 7

Criminalized otherness

Daniela Tinková – Sinner, Criminal, or Lunatic? Fabrication of the “Criminal” in the Process of Secularization (17th–19th Centuries) 17

Peter Becker – Irresistible Otherness? Criminological Discourse, Police Practices, and Criminal Identity in 19th Century Germany 27

Migrations – confessional minorities

Markéta Křížová – The Surprise of America and the European Civilizing Process ... 39

Jaroslav Miller – The Others in Town: Some Reflections on the Social Status of the Jewish Population in the Urban Centres of East-Central Europe 1500–1700 ... 49

Eva Kowalská – Heretics and Proselytes: The Formation and Perception of Confessional Identity among Czech Protestants after 1781 71

Chantal Bordes-Benayoun – Diasporas: a Pattern for Contemporary Migration Studies 85

Politics and otherness

Jean-François Berdah – Immigration and Citizenship in the 19th and 20th Century
(1789–1940): The French Melting Pot 91

Linas Eriksonas – Nationalism and Name-giving in Norway and Lithuania 99

Charlotte Alston – Harold Williams and His Circle: the Battle for British and American Opinion on the Russian Revolution 117

Blanka Řířhová – Between Britishness and Welshness: the Labour Party in Wales .. 129

Marginalized poverty

Marjaana Nieminen – Factory Mothers: Discourses of Poverty Motherhood and Women’s Work in English and Swedish Cities from 1900 to the 1920s 153

Lorna Goldsmith – “Problem Families” as a Housing Management Concern in Newcastle in the 1960s 167

Reports – Reviews

Meeting the Other: International Summer Workshop, Prague 12. 9.–14. 9. 2002 Reported by Michael Voříšek	181
The Modern Nation – Still a Live Issue: Miloš Rezník, Formování moderního národa (Evropské „dlouhé“ 19. století) [The Formation of the Modern Nation (The European “Long” 19 th Century)], Praha: Triton 2003, 183 pp. Reviewed by Blanka Řířhová	186
Jitka Malečková: Úrodná půda. Žena ve službách národa [Fertile Soil: Women Serve the Nation], Praha 2002. Reviewed by Darina Martykánová	188
Notes on Contributors	193