

Table of contents

Preface: The First Days Petr Pithart	7
Czechoslovakia's Return to Democracy Jiří Suk	9
Constitutionality and Retroactivity in Central Europe Jiří Příbáň	29
The Fall of Communism in Czechoslovakia Ján Čarnogurský	43
Changes in the Judiciary Jaroslav Marek	51
My Reflections on the Transformation of the Judiciary Otakar Motejl	57
Economic Reforms Viktor Hanzlík	61
Privatisation Tomáš Ježek	81
The Seamy Side of Banking Sector Transformation Jan Hájek	89
Army Transformation Jan Eichler	99
Transformation of the Interior Ministry and Security Forces Jan Frolík	103
My Time at the Interior Ministry Jan Ruml	111

The Transformation of the Intelligence Services Petr Zeman	115
Czech Media during the Transformation Period Tomáš Klvaňa	127
The Changing Face of Czech Media Petruška Šustrová	135
Changes to the Legal Position of Local Government Richard Pomahač	143
Experiences of Local Politics Jiří Růžek	147
Transformation of the Czech Health System after 1989 Petr Holub, Vratislav Řehák	155
My Reflections on the Transformation of the Czech Healthcare System, 15 Years On Martin Bojar	159
Environmental Protection before and after 1989 Viktor Třebický	165
Trade Unions Past and Present Jana Kašparová	171
Transitions to Democracy and the “Lustration” Screening Process Petr Blažek	173
Coming to Terms with the Past – the Czech Middle Way Pavel Žáček	181
The Assets of the Communist Party Pavel Molek	193