Preface	viii
Executive summary	2
Aims and target audience	11
1. Introduction	13
1.1 What is a mental health information system?	13
1.2 What are the main stages of an MHIS?	13
1.3 From where should information be collected?	15
1.4 What types of information should be collected?	16
1.5 Benefits of an MHIS	19
1.6 Common problems with health information systems	20
2. Principles of MHIS development	23
2.1 Start small, but keep the big picture in view	23
2.2 Use indicators	24
2.3 Establish a minimum data set	25
2.4 Make the MHIS user-friendly	26
2.5 Clarify the relationship of the MHIS with information systems in the general health and other sectors	26
2.6 Consult with all stakeholders	28
2.7 Link MHIS development to wider service development	31
2.8 Consider routine and non-routine data	31
2.9 Consider how epidemiological data should be included in the MHIS	32
2.10 Ensure privacy, confidentiality, access to information and consent	33
2.11 Address specific mental health information needs	33
3. Steps in designing and implementing a mental health information system	35
Step 1. Needs assessment: what information do we need?	36
Task 1: Establish a task team	36
Task 2: Review current policy and planning objectives	37
Task 3: Consult with all relevant stakeholders	38
Task 4: Identify indicators for measuring the policy and planning objectives	40
Step 2. Situation analysis: what information do we have?	47
Task 1: Review the current situation	47
Task 2: Conduct a "walk-through" analysis	50
Step 3. Implementation: how can we get the information we need?	52
Task 1: Identify the essential MHIS subsystems and indicators	52
Task 2: Establish a minimum data set	56
Task 3: Map the information flow	58
Task 4: Establish frequency of data collection	62
Task 5: Identify roles and responsibilities	64
Task 6: Design and distribute the materials	65
Task 7: Schedule staff training	66
Task 8: Address practical barriers to getting the needed information	66
Task 9: Build in quality checks	68
Task 10: Conduct a pilot project	69
Task 11: Roll out the MHIS	70

Step 4.	Evaluation: How well is the MHIS working?	72
	Task 1: Establish criteria for evaluating the MHIS	72
	Task 2: Establish a framework for evaluating the MHIS	73
	Task 3: Compare with baseline assessment	76
	Task 4: Timing of evaluations	76
4.	Barriers and solutions in MHIS	79
5.	Conclusion	82
	Annex 1. A WHO instrument to assess mental health systems and services at country level	83
	Annex 2. Country examples	84
	Annex 3. Using non-routine and routine data collection methods	87
	Definitions	95
