

Contents

Summary of recommendations	v
Aim of this policy brief	vi
Introduction	1
A global epidemic unequally distributed among groups of women	2
Barriers to access to health services for migrant and ethnic minority women experiencing IPV	3
Recommendations for improving the response of the health sector to IPV among migrant and ethnic minority women	4
At the health policy and health system levels	4
At the health facility level	6
At the health provider level	8
Conclusion	10
Case studies of health sector responses to IPV among migrant and ethnic minority women	11
Case study 1. The Riu Violeta project, Spain, 2010	11
Case study 2. Asian women, domestic violence and mental health: a toolkit for health professionals, United Kingdom, 2009	12
Case study 3. Professional training courses on violence against women and girls, France, 2010–2011	13
Case study 4. Roma women for life without violence: educational community meetings with Roma women’s organizations in Bosnia and Herzegovina, 2010	14
References	15