
Contents

Introduction – Historical Context and the Right to Memory / 9

- 1 German Central Europe and Czech Emancipation / 13
Ethnic Tensions in the Monarchy and Masaryk's Programme / 72
- 2 Mitteleuropa – The vision of a dominant Germany / 86
Naumann's Project / 90
Ideas of Greater Germany / 94
- 3 The Central Europe of the Successor States / 102
The Paris Peace Conference / 107
German Bohemians versus Czechoslovakia / 115
Democratic Reform of National-Ethnic Relations / 120
Civic Nation versus Ethnic Community / 128
- 4 Germans in the New Republic / 133
The Language Law / 139
German Parties and the Politics of Engagement / 146
The Economic Crisis and the Borderlands / 148
- 5 The Resurgence of Germany as a Great Power / 156
Through Equal Rights to Revision / 157
Complaints to the League of Nations / 161

- German Minorities Abroad / 170
Ethnic Germans as an Instrument of Expansion / 180
The Programme of International Isolation of the CSR / 187
The Psychological War against Czechoslovakia / 196
Press Propaganda / 199
- 6 The Triumph of the Appeasers at Munich / 206
Secret Diplomatic Soundings in Prague / 209
Henlein's Karlsbad Ultimatum / 216
Munich 1938 / 227
The Historical Dilemma of Capitulation / 238
The Interval of the Second Republic / 246
The Conflict-Ridden Principle of Self-determination / 253
- 7 The Genesis of the Transfer of the Sudeten Germans / 259
A Century of Transfers of Populations / 261
The Sudeten Germans and the Protectorate / 274
The Sudetenland Model Reichsgau / 277
The London Government in Exile and the Home Resistance / 284
Edvard Beneš and British Plans / 291
Transfer or Expulsion? / 306
Cutting the Gordian Knot / 317
- 8 The Transferred Sudeten Germans in Post-war Germany / 331
The Formation of the Sudeten German Expellee Organisations / 333
The Unification of the Expellees / 342
The Twenty-Point Programme / 351
The Support of the Political Spectrum of the FRG for the Expellees / 354
- 9 The Sudeten German Question between Home and Exile / 361
The Danubius Theses on the Expulsion of the Czechoslovak Germans / 368
The Czech Fate in Central Europe / 377
The Redefinition of the German Role in Central Europe / 384
- 10 The Return of Freedom (and History) – 1989 / 395
The Opening of Dialogue and the Division of the State / 397
The Declaration and Conditional Reconciliation / 402
Modified Regionalism and Ethnic Minorities / 409
The Dual Interpretation of History / 414

- 11 Memory as Part of the Present / 419
Cautious Friendship / 422
The Historical Roots of Attitudes to Germany / 428
Fears of Germany – A Reduced State Syndrome? / 438
Germany Unified and Emancipated / 442
The Return of Mitteleuropa? / 446
- 12 Germany and the Sudeten German Question in the Eyes of Public Opinion / 454
- 13 The Czech-German Relationship between Past and Future / 470
Instead of a conclusion / 477
- Bibliography / 481
Bibliographical Note / 527
List of Appendix Documents / 530
List of Maps and Graphs / 603
List of Illustrations / 624
Index of Organisation Names / 626
Index of Personal Names / 635