

Contents

FOREWORD BY
Barbara Ehrenreich

ix

INTRODUCTION:
Corporate Globalization

1

I. What Is Economic Globalization? 4

- 6 History
- 12 Global Flows Today
 - 12 A Trade in Goods and Services
 - 16 B International Financial Flows
 - 24 C Flows of People

II. What's New About the Global Economy? 26

- 28 A Hi-tech Global Assembly Line
- 30 B High Tide in the Global Labor Pool
- 31 C Cold War Melt
- 32 D Open Doors to Foreign Investment
- 33 E Global Financial Casino
- 34 F Immigrants Need Not Apply
- 35 G The Biotech Crusades

III. Globalization Claims 36

- 39 Claim #1: Increased Trade = More Jobs at Higher Wages
- 44 Claim #2: As Trade Spurs Economic Growth, Governments Invest More in the Environment
- 47 Claim #3: Foreign Investment Automatically Raises Living Standards
- 50 Claim #4: Free Trade Is the Consumers' Best Friend
- 52 Claim #5: Globalization Lifts All Boats
- 55 Claim #6: What's Good for General Motors Is Good for the Rest of Us
- 57 Claim #7: It's Fine That Poorer Nations Produce Goods in Sweatshops; the United States Developed That Way
- 59 Claim #8: Immigrants Are a Drain on the U.S. Economy
- 62 Claim #9: Trade = Democracy
- 63 Claim #10: Superior Productivity Will Protect U.S. Workers from Globalization

iv. Who's Driving Globalization? 64

- 66 A Private Actors
75 B Public Institutions

v. Responses to Globalization 90

- 92 Leaders Recognize the Social Impacts of Globalization
94 A Protesting the Rules of Globalization
97 B Worker Power
103 C Shareholder Power
104 D Voter Power
105 E Consumer Power
110 F Student Power
111 G People Power
114 H Local Power
116 I Artist Power

Conclusion:

121 A TURNING POINT

123 NOTES

128 APPENDIX 1

130 APPENDIX 2

133 DIRECTORY
OF ORGANIZATIONS

145 ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

