

Contents

Preface	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Major Findings Applicable to all Four Countries	1
Major Recommendations	2
The Political and Economic Environment	4
Creating Market Economies in Eastern Central Europe	7
The Coming Restructuring of Management Education	8
The Major Issue of Quality Control	10
Demand for Management Education	12
Criteria for Evaluating Management Education Centers	17
Some Benchmark Studies of Management Education	20
Alternatives to the Traditional Model	22
A Unique Opportunity: Instant Globalization	24
Research and Faculty	25
Further Suggestions Related to Management Education	27
Leveraging External Assistance	30

Conclusions

Appendix 1

Management Education Project Consortium for the MBAs
Enterprise Corps

Appendix 2†

Poland: The General Situation and Selected Management
Education Institutions in Detail

Appendix 3†

Hungary: The General Situation and Selected Management
Education Institutions in Detail

Appendix 4†

The Czech Republic and Slovakia: The General Situation
and Selected Management Education Institutions in Detail

References