

CONTENTS

Introduction	8
Chapter One: Challenges Affecting Palliative Care Since 1960	19
1.0 Introduction.....	19
1.1. Historical, Cultural, Biomedical, Philosophical and Ethical Challenges.....	19
1.1.1 Historical Challenges: Palliative Care Since 1960	19
1.1.2 Cultural Challenges: Palliative Care Across Different Cultures	26
1.1.3 Bioethical Challenges: New Bioethical Dilemmas in Palliative Care	29
1.1.4 Philosophical Challenges: Phenomenology and Theories of Embodiment	30
1.2 Lack of Consensus in Definition, Visibility and Legitimacy of Palliative Care.....	43
1.2.1 Definition of Operative Terms.....	43
1.2.2 Visibility and Legitimacy of Palliative Care.....	51
1.3 Embodied Relational Practices in Palliative Care Today.....	52
1.4 Gaps in Palliative Care	57
1.4.1 Gaps Dealing with Relativistic and Individualistic Behaviour and Values.....	58
1.4.2 Gaps Dealing with the Lack of Resources and Cost Control	60
1.5 Conclusion	63
Chapter Two: Embodiment in the Work of Gail Weiss and John F. Kavanaugh.....	65
2.0 Introduction	65
2.1 Body as Object vs. Body as Subject.....	65

2.1.1 Gail Weiss.....	70
2.1.2 John F. Kavanaugh.....	86
2.2 Synthesis of One's Own Body.....	99
2.3 Cultural and Social Dimensions of Embodiment.....	105
2.4 Vulnerability, Agency and Human Dignity.....	111
2.5 Conclusion.....	114

Chapter Three: Relationality in the Work

of Lisa S. Cahill and Eva F. Kittay	117
3.0 Introduction.....	117
3.1 Human Experience as Starting Point of Moral Inquiry.....	118
3.2 Relationality as Intersubjectivity – “Am I my Brother’s Keeper?” (Gn 4:9).....	123
3.2.1 Lisa Sowle Cahill	125
3.3 The Importance of Dependency – “We are All Some Mother’s Child.”	136
3.3.1 Eva Feder Kittay	136
3.4 The Imperative of Social Responsibility for Actions	149
3.5 Conclusion.....	155

Chapter Four: Caring Presence

as an Embodied Relational Practice	157
4.0 Introduction.....	157
4.1 Caring Presence Framework for Attending to Dying in Palliative Care.....	158
4.2 Spiritual Dimension in Caring Presence Framework	167
4.3 The Strategies of Mutual Trust and Sharing	170
4.4 The Strategy of Learning the Power of Narrative.....	175
4.5 The Strategies of Listening and Witnessing.....	184
4.5.1 The Strategy of Active Listening	185
4.5.2 The Strategy of Witnessing.....	190

4.6 Care as Bodily Labour: A Way of Understanding the Work of Care.....	196
4.7 Conclusion	200
Chapter Five: The Path to Better-Embodied Practices in Palliative Care	203
5.0 Introduction.....	203
5.1 Incorporation of Existing Models of Care into Caring Presence Framework.	204
5.2 The Necessity of Creating and Energizing Community Involvement.....	208
5.3 Christian Community Volunteers Involvement in Palliative Care	213
5.4 The Implications for Health Care Professionals.....	216
5.4.1 The Implications for Palliative Care Nurses and Nursing Students.....	217
5.4.2 The Implications for Nursing Professionals.....	223
5.5 The Implication for Medical Students and Doctors	225
5.6 Recommendations for Further Research in the Area of Palliative Care.....	229
5.7 Conclusion	232
Conclusion.....	235
Bibliography.....	239