

Contents

Acknowledgements	vi
About the Authors	viii
1 Being Romanian in London	1
2 A Short History of Migration to the UK: From Post-war to New Labour	16
3 Politics and Immigration in Context: Some Theoretical Notes	27
4 'The Slaves of Europe': The Economic Realities of Life in London for Romanians	43
5 Cultural Confusion and the Confusion of Culture: 'Roma', Romanians and the Exposure to Consumer Culture	60
6 From Communism to 'Democracy': Political Disintegration, Globalisation and the Mass Exodus from the Motherland	79
7 Discussion: Towards a Socio-Political-Subjective Appreciation of Immigration	100
References	116
Index	126