

Contents

| | |
|--|----|
| Introduction | 9 |
| 1. Studying the Collapse of the Soviet Union | 13 |
| 1.1 Transitological Perspective | 14 |
| 1.2 National and Identity Mobilization | 17 |
| 1.3 Institutions and Mobilization | 20 |
| 2. Theoretical Framework | 25 |
| 2.1 The Modernization Paradigm | 25 |
| 2.1.1 Modernization and the Decline of Ethnic Identities | 26 |
| 2.1.2 Modernization and Ethnic (Political) Conflict | 27 |
| 2.1.3 Modernization Challenged | 30 |
| 2.2 Coining the Alternative | 33 |
| 3. Methodology | 38 |
| 3.1 Causal Mechanisms | 39 |
| 3.1.1 Explaining Causal Mechanism | 41 |
| 3.1.2 Defining Causal Mechanisms | 44 |
| 3.1.2.1 Developmentalist State | 46 |
| 3.1.2.2 Class Dynamics | 51 |
| 3.1.2.3 State Functioning | 55 |
| 3.1.2.4 Ethnopolitical Mobilization | 59 |
| 3.1.2.5 Environmental Mechanism of Social Change | 60 |
| 3.1.2.6 Relational Mechanism of Class Dynamics | 61 |
| 3.1.2.7 Cognitive Mechanism of Identity Mobilization | 64 |
| 4. Georgia: from Developmentalist Transformation to War | 66 |
| 4.1 Mechanisms of Social Changes in Georgia | 66 |

| | |
|--|------------|
| 4.2 Mechanisms of Class Dynamics | 74 |
| 4.2.1 Functioning of the State | 81 |
| 4.3 Mechanisms of Ethnopolitical Mobilization | 90 |
| 4.3.1 Georgian National Mobilization | 96 |
| 4.3.2 National Mobilization in Abkhazia | 100 |
| 4.3.2.1 Mobilization to War | 103 |
| 4.3.3 National Non-mobilization in Ajaria | 107 |
| 4.3.3.1 De-mobilization to Stability | 110 |
| 5. Conclusion | 113 |
| 5.1 From Developmentalist State to Ethnopolitical Mobilization | 113 |
| 5.2 Conclusion | 115 |
| Bibliography | 118 |