Anna Netrebko enchanted audiences and critics alike when she sang her first ever Elvira at the Met, and this DVD captures all the freshness and spontaneity of her acclaimed performance.

"The prolonged ovation Netrebko received after the Act II mad scene threatened to stop the performance midway."

— The New York Times

"Netrebko has that bel canto gift of singing like a windswept lark on a bright day, and an acting style combining the natural with the daring."

— The New York Post

The original stage production of I Puritani was made possible by generous gifts from the Metropolitan Opera Board of Directors, Members of the Association, and Patrons, with special support from Subscribers, the Metropolitan Opera Guild, National Council, Opera Club, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Crawford.

Major funding for the original Great Performances at the Met television production was provided by Toll Brothers. Additional funding was provided by the National Endowment for the Arts, The Corporation for Public Broadcasting, the Charles E. Culpeper Foundation, and the Arthur F. and Alice E. Adams Charitable Foundation, Miami, Florida.
