Contents

Preface and Acknowledgments viii

PART I THE SCOPE OF DISCOURSE ANALYSIS 1

1 Overview 5
1 Introduction 5
2 "Core" examples from different approaches to discourse 6
3 Plan of the book 12

2 Definitions of Discourse 20
1 Introduction 20
2 Formal and functionalist paradigms 20
3 Discourse: language above the sentence 23
4 Discourse: language use 31
5 Discourse: utterances 39
6 Summary: definitions, issues, and discourse analysis 41

PART II APPROACHES TO DISCOURSE ANALYSIS 45

3 Speech Act Theory 49
1 Introduction 49
2 Defining speech act theory 49
3 Sample analysis: questions, requests, offers 61
4 Speech act theory as an approach to discourse 89
Exercises 91

4 Interactional Sociolinguistics 97
1 Introduction 97
2 Defining interactional sociolinguistics 98
3 Sample analysis: "speaking for another" 106

4 Interactional sociolinguistics as an approach to discourse 133
Exercises 134

5 The Ethnography of Communication 137
1 Introduction 137
2 Defining the ethnography of communication 137
3 Sample analysis: questions as speech acts in speech events 144
4 An ethnographic approach to discourse 185
Exercises 186

6 Pragmatics 190
1 Introduction 190
2 Defining pragmatics 191
3 Referring terms: pragmatic processes in discourse 197
4 Sample analysis: referring sequences in narrative 203
5 Gricean pragmatics as an approach to discourse 226
Exercises 228

7 Conversation Analysis 232
1 Introduction 232
2 Defining conversation analysis 233
3 Sample analysis: "there + BE + ITEM" 239
4 Conversation analysis as an approach to discourse 273
Exercises 279

8 Variation Analysis 282
1 Introduction 282
2 Defining variation analysis 283
3 Sample analysis: the "list" as text 291
4 The variationist approach to discourse 330
Exercises 333

PART III CONCLUSION 335

9 Structure and Function 339
1 Introduction 339
2 Structure and function in discourse analysis 339
3 Comparisons among approaches: from utterance to discourse 353
4 Conclusion 359

10 Text and Context 362
1 Introduction 362
2 What is context? 365
3 What is text? 378
4 Conclusion 383

11 Discourse and Communication 386
1 Introduction 386
2 Aspects of communication 387

3 Discourse analysis and models of communication 391
4 Summary 405

12 Conclusion: Language as Social Interaction 406
1 Introduction 406
2 Starting points: differences among approaches 406
3 Principles of discourse analysis: language as social interaction 414
4 At the borders of different disciplines 418

Appendix 1 Collecting Data 420

Appendix 2 Transcription Conventions 422

Appendix 3 Sample Data 434

Bibliography 439

Index 459

Index

a priori grammar see formalist paradigm abstracts 284, 285
acceptance see compliance accounts
  interactional sociolinguistics 108, 113–15
  speech act theory 80–4, 89
act sequences 147
  reference interviews 148, 155, 160
  sociolinguistic interviews 160, 162, 176–80
actions conversation analysis: ethnomethodology 233–4; text and context 376–7
  interactional sociolinguistics 113–15
  language use 32
  see also speech act theory active predicates 302–4 additions 79
adjacency pairs 16
  conversation analysis 236–7, 242–52, 271–2: structure and function 340; text and context 377
  structuralism 27
  see also question-answer pairs; summons-answer pairs adverbial there 275–6, 277 affricates 35
alignments 109–13
  micro-and macro-identity displays 115–27 ambiguity
  pragmatics 220–1, 222, 225–6
  variation analysis 296
anaphora 28
animators
  identity displays 119, 123, 125
  speaking for another 108
answers
  speech act theory 77
  stories as 34, 35–8
  see also question-answer pairs; summons-answer pairs
anthropology
  ethnography of communication 8, 137–41
  interactional sociolinguistics 7, 97, 98–102
applause 430
attributive referring terms 230n Austin, John 6, 49, 50–4
  indirect acts 60
  intonation 94n
  sample analysis 61
  taxonomies of acts 57
authors 104
autonomy 22–3
avoidance rituals 103

background mentions
  conversation analysis 270–1
  pragmatics 208–9
behavior 138–9
benefits
  directives and commissives 95n

benefits (cont'd)
requests and offers 75, 83 Bloomfield, L. 26
breadth-before-depth lists 327–8 bridging 317
butting in 109–13
identity displays 119

categories
functionalist paradigm 22
variation analysis 293–6, 307: constraints 320, 322–6 children, acquisition of language 22 chipping in 109–13
Chomsky, N.
competence, explanation of 8, 140 sentences, definition 28 circumstances, speech act theory 50–1 clarification
ethnography of communication 183–4: reference interviews 154–9; sociolinguistic interviews 168, 172–6 interactional sociolinguistics 136n closed questions 65
codas 284
code model 391–3, 396
code switching 98
cognition 99
cognitive function 43n
cognitive linguistics 229n coherence 417
pragmatics 353
speech act theory 63, 89, 94n, 407: text and context 366
structuralism 25
variation analysis 355
collaboration see solidarity collective referents
conversation analysis 245
pragmatics 211–12, 213–15
commissives 57, 58
offers 72–3, 76
commitment 89
commissives 73
promises and offers 74
communication, nature of 18, 42, 386–405, 418–19
communicative activities 100 communicative competence
ethnography of communication 8, 140, 408
interactional sociolinguistics 101, 131
communicative function 43n comparators 11
comparisons, discourse analysis approaches 15–19 complaints 94n
compliance
pragmatics 217, 219
speech act theory 83, 89, 96n complicating action clauses 284, 285 compliments 94
comprehensive discourse analysis 11, 286, 355 conative functions 351
language use 33
constatives 50, 51–3
constitutive rules
ethnography of communication 144
speech act theory 55, 56, 57: questions 67; text and context 366, 372 context
conversation analysis 10, 235–6
functionalism 34
interactional sociolinguistics 7–8, 105–6, 134, 181–2
speech act theory 6–7: intonation 94n utterances, discourse as 40
variation analysis 11, 285–6, 289
contextual conditions 55–6
constatives 52
performatives 50
contextual presuppositions 100, 103–4
speaking for another 113
contextualization cues
ethnography of communication 371: culture 144 interactional sociolinguistics 99–101, 106, 370: communication, nature of 401–3; footing 104; interpretive frames 103; sequential coherence 130; speaking for another 113, 133–4 contiguous utterances 425 conventional meaning 56–7 conversation analysis (CA) 232–9, 273–9, 409, 413

communication, nature of 388: interactional model 401, 404–5
"core" example 9–10
exercises 279–80
focus 12
sample analysis 239–73
stories 96n
structure and function 340–1, 354: and ethnography of communication 356–7
text and context 376–8, 382–3 cooperative principle (CP) 9, 193–7, 226–7
inferential model 396
referring terms 198
structure and function 352–3
text and context 367–8
correctness 88
criticality of rules 56 culture
ethnography of communication 8–9, 137–41, 181–2: diversity 143–4; interactional model 403–4 interactional sociolinguistics 7, 97: anthropology 98–9, 100–2, 106
speech act theory 95n
current-utterances 128–9

data collection and analysis 420–1 discourse analysis approaches 13
sample analyses 14
deceptions 83–4, 96n
declarative sentences
as questions 30
speech act theory 57: directives 70; questions 65 defensiveness 121
definite referring terms
conversation analysis 240
pragmatics 198–9, 230n: sample analysis 206–7, 208–9
variation analysis 317–19
demonstrative there 275, 277 depth-before-breadth lists 326–7 descriptive structure 301–6 designata 191
development, discourse analysis approaches 14 dialogic pairs see adjacency pairs digressions 221
directives 57, 58
indirect acts 59–60
offers 72–3, 75
requests 70
displacement, textual 211 disputes 116
diversity 143
doubt see uncertainty

echo questions 175
ellipses
conversation analysis 243
structuralism 28
variation analysis 297–8
embedded evaluations 11, 305, 308 embedded question-answer pairs 248–51 emergent paradigm see functionalist paradigm emic schemas
ethnography of communication 141
functionalism 32, 33
emotive functions 351
language use 33
encounters 27
encouragement 100
ends 146
reference interviews 154–5, 157, 159, 160
sociolinguistic interviews 160–3, 176–80
entities 297–9
epistemic meaning 151
equivalence 342–4
essential rules 56
indirect acts 60
offers and promises 73
questions 64, 66, 67, 68–9
requests 71
taxonomies of acts 58
ethnography of communication 137–44, 185–6, 408, 412
communication, nature of 388: interactional model 401, 403–4
"core" example 8–9
exercises 186–7
focus 12
sample analysis 144–85
structure and function 347–50, 356–7

text and context 370–1, 382: and variation analysis 375 ethnomethodology 9–10, 232, 233–6 etic schemas
ethnography of communication 141–2
functionalism 32–3
evaluative structure 11, 306–14 exhaustiveness 78
existential predicates 36 existential there construction conversation analysis 239–40, 274, 276–8: see also "there + BE + ITEM" constructions
variation analysis 304–6
expansions
interactional sociolinguistics 108
speech act theory 78–84
explanations of competence 8
speech act theory 77
explicit performatives 52–3 explicit referring terms
conversation analysis 240
pragmatics 198–9: sample analysis 206–7, 212, 215, 224–5
variation analysis 317–18
expressibility, principle of 54, 90 expression
individual 98
interactional sociolinguistics 105
expressives 57, 58

face notion 102–3, 130
Fairclough, N. 31
falsity 51–2, 53
familiarity 114
family conversations 420
Fasold, R. 40
felicity 64
performatives 51–2
questions 69
requests 71
text and context 380
Figueroa, E. 40–1
figures 104
first-mentions
conversation analysis 240–52, 258–9, 265–73
language use 36, 43n
pragmatics 202: sample analysis 207–9, 213–14, 216–17, 219–20, 222–5 variation analysis 317–20: structure and function 344–5 flexibility 91
footing 104, 124
form
and function 85–7
and meaning 103
formalist paradigm 20–3, 41–2 language across the sentence 23–31
social interaction, language as 415–17
formulation, queries 154–9 frames 103–4, 136n
fricatives 35
function
and form 85–7
and structure 18, 42, 339–61, 418–19
functionalist paradigm 20–3, 41–2
ethnography of communication 138, 142–3
language use 31–9
social interaction, language as 415–17

Garfinkel, Harold 9, 232, 233 gaze direction 429–30
gender 115–27
generative grammar 28
genre 147
reference interviews 148
sociolinguistic interviews 160, 163
Givón, T. 197
Goffman, Erving
interactional sociolinguistics 7, 97, 102–6, 133–4
systems and ritual conditions 32 grammar
conversation analysis 274
ethnography of communication 140
generative 28
interactional sociolinguistics 99
greetings 400
Grice, H. P.
inferential model 393
pragmatics 9
Gricean pragmatics 190–203, 226–7, 408–9, 412–13

communication, nature of 388: inferential model 396–7
and conversation analysis 241
exercises 228–9
sample analysis 203–26
structure and function 352–3, 359
text and context 367–9, 379–81
guesses 114
Gumperz, John 7, 97, 98–104, 105–6, 133–4

Harris, Zellig 18, 24
historical present tense 87 accounts 81, 84
history, discourse analysis 19n
Horn, L. 231n
Hymes, Dell 8, 137–43

identifiability of entities 199 identification of speech act sequences 76–84 of utterances as speech acts 63–76 identity, interactional sociolinguistics 115–27 ill-formedness 94n
structuralism 26–7
illocutionary acts
interactional sociolinguistics 100
speech act theory: Austin 51, 53–4; commissives 73; multifunctionality and indirect acts 59; Searle 55–7; sequences 76–7; taxonomies of acts 57–8 illocutionary force
interactional sociolinguistics 100
speech act theory 66–7, 68, 90: inferential model 397; intonation 66–7, 68; offers 72; structure and function 347; text and context 379–80 imperative sentences
directives 70
as questions 30
implications 52
implicatures
cooperative principle 193–6
inferential model 396
text and context 367–8, 380–1
incompleteness 66
indefinite referring terms
conversation analysis 240
pragmatics 198–9, 230n: sample analysis 206–7, 208–9, 212
variation analysis 317–18
indirect complaints 94n indirect questions 30
indirect speech acts
"core" example 6, 7
speech act theory 59–60, 75, 90
individual expression 98 inexplicit referring terms
conversation analysis 240
pragmatics 198–9: sample analysis 206–7, 212, 213, 215
variation analysis 317–18
infelicity 51
inferences
pragmatics 9
situated: ethnography of communication 371; interactional sociolinguistics 100–1, 103, 104, 113, 370
speech act theory 59
variation analysis 316–17
inferential model 393–7 information-checking questions 94n ethnography of communication 183–4: reference interviews 157; sociolinguistic interviews 169–73 information flow perspective 231n information-seeking questions ethnography of communication 183–4: sociolinguistic interviews 165–9, 173
speech act theory 68–72
inside of lists 321–2 institutional encounters 420 instrumentalities 147
insults 53
intentional information 105 intentions, speaker
interactional sociolinguistics 132
pragmatics 191–2
speech act theory 56–7
interactional model 397–405
interactional sociolinguistics 98–106, 133–4, 407, 412
communication, nature of 388: interactional model 401–3

conversation analysis comparison 10
"core" example 7–8
exercises 134–6
focus 12
sample analysis 106–33
structure and function 350–2, 357–9
text and context 369–70, 381–2: and variation analysis 374–5
interactive paradigm see functionalist paradigm interests of speakers and hearers 58 interpretants 191
interpretations 7–8
interpreters 191
interpretive frame 103
interrogatives
ethnography of communication 150
speech act theory 65, 69, 70
interruptions
conversation analysis 257–8, 266–7
ethnography of communication 188n
interactional sociolinguistics 109
pragmatics 219
intersubjectivity 387, 389–90
code model 392
inferential model 395
interactional model 401
intervals in speech 426 interviews 145–7
reference 147–60
sociolinguistic: data from 14, 420; ethnography of communication 160–80; variation analysis 289–90 intimates 94n
intonation 412
conversation analysis 252–7
ethnography of communication 149, 157
interactional sociolinguistics 100
language use 38
question identification 30
speech act theory 65–8, 69
intonational closure 25 invitations 73, 94n involvement, social organization of 103 issuance, queries 154–9 items 240–1: see also "there + BE + ITEM" constructions

Jakobson, R. 32–3
Jefferson, Gail 10, 232

keys 147
reference interviews 148
"knowability" 82
knowledge
context as 365–73, 376–8
conversation analysis 233
ethnography of communication 138–9

Labov, William 10–11, 282–91
language use 31–9
lead-in-phase 179–80
learning of languages 22
"let" statements 95n
Levinson, S. 231n
lexical-functional grammar 22 linguistics
ethnography of communication 137–41
interactional sociolinguistics 7, 97
speech act theory 54, 61
variation analysis 10, 282, 283
lists 291–317
constraints 320–30
locutionary acts 51, 53
logic 193
Lyons, J. 27

macro-identity displays 115–27 manner maxim 194
many-for-one relationships 87 marginal features of language 99 material resources 103 mathematical representations 22 meaning
ethnography of communication 151
interactional sociolinguistics 7–8: and form 103
pragmatics 9, 191–3, 226–7
situated 109–27
speech act theory 56–7, 88
mediums of communication 389
code model 392
inferential model 395
interactional model 401
messages 388–9
code model 392

inferential model 394–5
interactional model 400–1
meta-messages 136n
metalinguistic function 33 metaphorical code switching 98 metaphors 196
metonyms 208
micro-identity displays 115–27 misfires 51, 52
modularity 22–3
morphemes 24
Morris, C. 191
motivation 132
multifunctionality
ethnography of communication: reference interviews 149–50; structure and function 348–9 speech act theory 6–7, 59–60, 63, 75, 85–7: "let" statements 95n; offers 72; sequential completion 80; structure and function 347 multiparty interviews 168, 176–7

narrative clauses 11
narrative ordering 37
variation analysis 345
narratives 11, 283–7
and lists 291–2, 293, 297, 299–315
see also stories
natural meaning 191
negative statements 83
new information 36
Newmeyer, F. 22
next-mentions
conversation analysis 237, 240–52, 258–9, 265–73
interactional sociolinguistics 128–31
language use 36, 43n
pragmatics 202: sample analysis 207–8, 210–25
variation analysis 317–20: structure and function 345
nominal anaphora 28
non-compliance see rejections non-natural meaning (meaning-nn) 191–2 non-specific referring terms 230n norms 147
reference interviews 155
sociolinguistic interviews 160

observer's paradox 161
offers
ethnography of communication 149–50, 152–9
interactional sociolinguistics 113–14
speech act theory 72–6, 86: sequences 76, 77, 82–3, 89 old information 36
one-for-many relationships see multifunctionality only-mentions 269–71
open questions 65
orientation clauses 284 origins, discourse analysis approaches 13 outside of lists 321–2 over-initiated repairs 121
overlaps
interactional sociolinguistics 109
transcription notation 424–5, 432

paradigmatic structure 342 parataxis 28
parents, compliance with 83, 96n participants 387–8
code model 391–2
ethnography of communication 147: reference interviews 159–60; sociolinguistics interviews 160–1, 176–80: structure and function 349
inferential model 393–5
interactional model 398–401
observation 140, 141 participation framework 104
contextualization cues 106
identity displays 116, 118–27
speaking for another 108, 112–13, 132
patterns in texts 11
perceptual function 43n
performatives 50–4
directives 70
indirect acts 60
perlocutionary acts
Austin 51, 54
Searle 56
personal knowledge 136n phatic function 33
phenomenology 9

philosophy
pragmatics 9
speech act theory 61
phonemics 32
phonetics 32
poetic function 33
politeness
ethnography of communication 189n
interactional sociolinguistics: identity displays 117, 119; speaking for another 109
speech act theory 77, 78
positional knowledge 136n pragmatic goals 41
pragmatics 190–203, 223–7, 408–9, 412–13
communication, nature of 388: inferential model 396–7
and conversation analysis 241
"core" example 9
exercises 228–9
focus 12
sample analysis 203–23
structure and function 352–3, 359
text and context 367–9, 379–81
Prague school of linguistics 138 pre-interview phase 178–9 pre-requests 95n
pre-sequences 248–9
preferences 237, 252–3, 257–9
structure and function 354
preparatory rules
ethnography of communication 150–1, 154
speech act theory 56: indirect acts 59–60; offers and promises 73–4, 75; questions 64–6, 67, 68–9, 86; taxonomies of acts 58 present tense
historical 87: accounts 81, 84 speech act theory: accounts 81; performatives 50, 53 presentational rituals 103
speaking for another 109
preterite tense 84, 87
primary acts
offers 76
speech act theory 59–60
primary performatives 52–3 principals 104
identity displays 119, 121, 122, 123
speaking for another 108, 131
principle of expressibility 54, 90 promises 56, 73–4, 75–6 felicity conditions 64
prompts 120–5
pronomial there 276–7 pronouns
pragmatics 212, 213–15
variation analysis 325–6, 328–9: structure and function 355
pronunciation 35
proper nouns 82
propositional acts 55
propositional content rules 56
questions 64–7, 68, 76
requests 71–2
taxonomies of acts 58
propositions 24
prosody 65
psychological state 58
punctuation conventions 25 quality maxim 194

quantitative analyses 287–8, 317 quantity maxim 194, 199–201
sample analysis 208, 213, 214–15, 217–18, 223–6
queries 149, 153–9
question-answer pairs 411–12
conversation analysis 242–52
structuralism 27, 29, 30
questions
ethnography of communication 144–85
sample analyses 15–17, 18
speech act theory 64–70, 86: indirect acts 59; and offers 74, 75–6; and requests 70, 71–2; sequences 76, 77, 89
structuralism 29–30

recency 325
recipients 108
reference interviews 147–60
references 28
referential function 33
referents 36

referring terms
conversation analysis 240–52, 265–73: stepwise topic transitions 261–5 pragmatics 197–203: sample analysis 203–26; structure and function 352
sample analyses 15–17, 18–19
variation analysis 292, 316–30: structure and function 342–5; text and context 375 reformulation, queries 156–9 refusals see rejections regulative rules 55
rejections
interactional sociolinguistics 112, 113–14
speech act theory 77–8, 89 relation maxim 194, 199–201
sample analysis 208, 213
relational grammar 22 relevance 199–201
sample analysis 208, 213, 223–6
reliability 88
repairs 258–61
repetition 296
replacements 79
representatives 57, 58
requests
ethnography of communication 150
pragmatics 217, 219
speech act theory 70–2, 86: context and text 372; and offers 73–5, 76, 95n; sequences 76, 77, 89 resolution, queries 154–9 revelation of information 112 rhemes 277
rhetoric
ethnography of communication 150
history 19n
ritual conditions 32
roles
ethnography of communication 164, 165, 167–8
interactional sociolinguistics 127–31
root meaning 151
rules
constitutive 55, 56, 57: ethnography of communication 144; questions 67; text and context 366, 372
interactional sociolinguistics 358
speech act theory 54, 55–6, 358

Sacks, Harvey 10, 232, 234–5 next-position 237
stepwise transitions 261–2
sample analyses 14
comparisons 15–17
Sapir, Edward
ethnography of communication 138
functionalist paradigm 22
satisfaction, queries 154–9
Schegloff, Emmanuel 10, 232
Schutz, Alfred 9
Searle, John 6, 49–50, 54–7, 61, 90 multiple functions and indirect acts 59, 60
offers 73, 75
questions 64
requests 71
taxonomies of acts 57–8
secrets 96n
segmentation of texts 7 self
anthropology 101
sequential coherence 130
sociology 102–3, 104
speaking for another 108
self-interruption 257–8, 266–7 self-repairs
ethnography of communication 157
speech act theory 79
self-selection
conversation analysis 238
ethnography of communication 179
Sells, P. 26–7
semantic closure 25
semantic goals 41
semantics
pragmatics 191: speaker meaning 192 structuralism 43n
text and context 362
variation analysis 288
semiosis 191
senders 108
sentences
definitions 26, 28, 40
language above 23–31

and utterances 40–1
sequential coherence 129–30
sequential goals 41 serial format 162
setting 147
side sequences 95n
sign vehicles 191
simultaneous utterances 424 sincerity rules
ethnography of communication 154, 155
speech act theory 56: indirect acts 59; questions 64, 67, 68, 69; requests 71, 75, 86; taxonomies of acts 58 situated inferences
ethnography of communication 371
interactional sociolinguistics 100, 101, 103: alignment 104; context 370; speaking for another 113 situated information 399–400 situated meaning 109–27 situation, context as 369–78 situational code switching 98 social actions 113–15
social distance 94n
social function 43n
social identities
conversation analysis 235–6
directives and commissives 95n
language use 35
text and context 374
social interaction
language as 406–19
speech act theory 85
social order 10, 232
social relationships
interactional sociolinguistics 110–13
speech act theory 69–70, 89
socialization 131
society
interactional sociolinguistics 7, 97: anthropology 98–9, 100–2; sociology 105
language use 31
sociolinguistic interviews
data from 14, 420
ethnography of communication 160–80
variation analysis 289–90
sociolinguistic variables 35
sociology
conversation analysis 9–10, 233
interactional sociolinguistics 7, 97, 102–5 solidarity 112
identity displays 117, 120, 125
speaking for another 106–33
structure and function 357
SPEAKING grid 141–2, 146
context 371
specific referring terms 230n
speech act theory 49–61, 89–91, 407, 408–9
communication, nature of 388: inferential model 396–7
"core" example 6–7
exercises 91–3
focus 12
functionalism 35
sample analysis 61–89
structure and function 346–7, 356, 358
text and context 365–7, 369, 371–3, 379–80
speech acts 142, 144–85 speech delivery 426–8 speech events 142, 144–85 speech situations 142
spokespersons
conversation analysis 244
interactional sociolinguistics 108, 110, 131
statements 59
stative predicates 302–4 status of speakers and hearers 58 stepwise format
conversation analysis 261–5
sociolinguistic interviews 162, 183
stops 35
stories
beginnings, language use 34, 35–8 conversation analysis 96n functions 87
interactional sociolinguistics 116
pragmatics 204
speech act theory 80–4
see also narratives
strangers 94n

strengths of presentations 58 structural linguistics 99 structural paradigm see formalist paradigm structure
  conversation analysis 237
  and function 18, 42, 339–61, 418–19
  interactional sociolinguistics 7
Stubbs, Michael 18
subcategories 295–6
  constraints 320, 322, 323–30
subject-verb inversion 29 subjectivity 306–7
summons-answer pairs 10, 236 sympathy 118
syntactic closure 25
syntactic goals 41
syntagmatic structure 342 syntax
  ethnography of communication 149
  pragmatics 191
  speech act theory 70
  structuralism 28, 43 question identification 30 system conditions 32 system-sentences 27–8

Tannen, D. 136n
taped conversations 420
taxonomies of acts 57–9
telephone calls 10, 236 temporal anaphora 28
temporal ordering 37
  variation analysis 345
temporal structure 299–301
tense
  historical present 87: accounts 81, 84 present: accounts 81; performatives 50, 53 preterite 84, 87
  speech act theory 84, 87
text and context, relationship between 18, 42, 362–85, 418–19
  conversation analysis 278
  ethnography of communication 152
  pragmatics 209
  speech act theory 51–3, 55–6: indirect acts 60 text-sentences 27–8
textual conditions
  Austin 50, 52–3
  Searle 55–6
thematicity 325
"there + BE + ITEM" constructions 240–73, 278–9
  structure and function 340–1
threats 112, 114
topics
  conversation analysis 261–5
  ethnography of communication 162
  interactional sociolinguistics 115–16
  structuralism 27
transcription
  conventions 14–15, 422–33
  conversation analysis 235
  interactional sociolinguistics 106
  language "above the sentence" 25 transition-relevance place 238 truth 51–2, 53
turns
  conversation analysis 237–8, 252–61, 272: structure and function 340, 354; text and context 377
  ethnography of communication 179
  structuralism 27
typotaxis 28

uncertainty
  ethnography of communication 151–3 intonation 38: speech act theory 66 speech act theory 66, 68–9: offers 74, 76
  transcription 428–9
unintentional information 105 units
  speech act theory 77
  structuralism 24–5
  variation analysis 283–7: lists 297–9 universals, linguistic
  ethnography of communication 141
  formal and functionalist paradigms 22
uptake 50
utterance acts 55
utterances
  as definition of discourse 39–41
  pragmatics 203
  speech act theory 61, 63–76, 85–8

vagueness 214, 225–6
validity

interactional sociolinguistics 118
speech act theory 88
variation analysis 282–91, 330–3, 409, 413
communication, nature of 388, 392–3
"core" example 10–11
exercises 33–4
focus 12
sample analysis 291–30
structure and function 341–5, 354–6
text and context 373–6, 382–3 vernacular speech 289–90 violations 196, 214–15, 217–18, 224–6 wants
interactional sociolinguistics 113–14
speech act theory 68
well-formedness 94n
structuralism 26–7
word order 28
words-to-world fits 58
world-to-words fits 58, 73 written language
data collection 421
sentences 25

zero pronouns 212