

Contents

Table of Cases	xv
Table of Legislation	xxii
List of Abbreviations	xxv
1. Introduction: Origins and Methodology	1
1.1 Institutional and Political Pressures on the Convention System	3
1.2 Methodology	12
1.3 Outline	19
PART I
2. The Strasbourg System: Roles and Relationships	23
2.1 States' Obligations under the Convention	23
2.2 Practices and Procedures of the Court in the Pre-judgment Phase	28
2.3 The Court's Developing Approach to Redress	30
2.4 Contact between the Court and National Parliaments	35
2.5 The Role of the Committee of Ministers	36
2.6 The Role of the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe	47
2.7 The Role of Other Council of Europe Bodies	54
2.8 Assessing the Effectiveness of the Supervision System	56
2.9 Reform of the Convention System	60
2.10 Conclusion	63
3. National Implementation and the Role of Parliaments	65
3.1 Parliaments and Theories of Compliance	66
3.2 Identifying and Measuring Compliance in the Convention System	69
3.3 Recognition of the Parliamentary Role	72
3.4 Parliamentary Structures and Mechanisms for Human Rights Oversight	75
3.5 Executive Structures and Mechanisms	91
3.6 Parliaments and the Domestic Politics of Compliance	99
3.7 Assessing the Effectiveness of Parliamentary Bodies	108
3.8 Conclusion	111
4. Human Rights, Democracy, and Legitimacy in the Convention System	113
4.1 Is There a Problem of Legitimacy?	115
4.2 What is Legitimacy?	119
4.3 What is Democratic Legitimacy?	123

4.4	The Democratic Legitimacy of the European Court of Human Rights	127
4.5	The Court's Engagement with the Parliamentary Process: Deference and Subsidiarity	134
4.6	Resolving Disagreements about Rights	144
4.7	Conclusion	153
PART II
5.	Ukraine	157
5.1	The Constitutional, Legal, and Political Landscape	157
5.2	Ukraine and the Convention System	162
5.3	Implementation of ECtHR Judgments: The Current System in Ukraine	172
5.4	Implementation of ECtHR Judgments: The Role of Parliament	176
5.5	The Relationship between Parliament and Council of Europe Bodies	184
5.6	Conclusion	188
6.	Romania	190
6.1	The Constitutional, Legal, and Political Landscape	190
6.2	Romania and the Convention System	195
6.3	Implementation of ECtHR Judgments: The Role of Parliament	203
6.4	Implementation of ECtHR Judgments: The Role of the Executive	209
6.5	Monitoring and Implementing Judgments against Other States	211
6.6	Implementation of Specific Judgments	212
6.7	Conclusion	222
7.	The United Kingdom	224
7.1	The Constitutional, Legal, and Political Landscape	224
7.2	The UK and the Convention System	225
7.3	Implementation of ECtHR Judgments: The Role of Parliament	232
7.4	Implementation of ECtHR Judgments: The Role of the Executive	239
7.5	Monitoring and Implementing Judgments against Other States	242
7.6	Implementation of Specific Judgments	244
7.7	Conclusion	259
8.	The Netherlands	261
8.1	The Constitutional, Legal, and Political Landscape	261
8.2	The Netherlands and the Convention System	262
8.3	Implementation of ECtHR Judgments: The Role of Parliament	267
8.4	Implementation of ECtHR Judgments: The Role of the Executive	273
8.5	The Netherlands Institute for Human Rights	274

8.6 Monitoring and Implementing Judgments against Other States	275
8.7 Relationship between Parliament and Council of Europe Bodies	276
8.8 Conclusion	277
9. Germany	279
9.1 The Constitutional, Legal, and Political Landscape	279
9.2 Germany and the Convention System	285
9.3 The Politics of Implementation	286
9.4 Implementation of ECtHR Judgments: The Role of Parliament	292
9.5 Implementation of ECtHR Judgments: The Role of the Executive	298
9.6 Conclusion	301
10. Conclusion	303
10.1 The Question of Capacity	304
10.2 Interaction between Parliaments and Council of Europe Bodies	309
10.3 The Question of Legitimacy	311
Appendix: Interviewees	315
Index	319