

CONTENTS

A Preface for Students, with a Note to Everyone Else ix

Acknowledgments xvii

one Why Read the Opinions? i

two The Opinion and Narrative 18

three Unity: The Judicial Voice 46

four Legal Doctrine: Between Erudition
and Fundamentalism 88

five Facts: Stating the Case 135

Conclusion: Making the Case for a Humanist
Study of the Law 173

Notes 181

Index 231