

Contents

Introduction 1

JEAN L. COHEN

Part I: Freedom of Religion or Human Rights

1. Religious Freedom and the Fate of Secularism 27

SAMUEL MOYN

2. Religion: Ally, Threat, or Just Religion? 47

ANNE PHILLIPS

3. Regulating Religion Beyond Borders: The Case of FGM/C 66

YASMINE ERGAS

4. Pluralism vs. Pluralism: Islam and Christianity in the European Court of Human Rights 89

CHRISTIAN JOPPKE

Part II: Nonestablishments and Freedom of Religion

5. Rethinking Political Secularism and the American Model of Constitutional Dualism 113

JEAN L. COHEN

6. Is European Secularism Secular Enough? 157

RAJEEV BHARGAVA

7. State-Religion Connections and Multicultural Citizenship 182

TARIQ MODOOD

8. Breaching the Wall of Separation 204

DENIS LACORNE

9. Transnational Nonestablishment (Redux) 222

CLAUDIA E. HAUPT

Part III: Religion, Liberalism, and Democracy

10. Liberal Neutrality, Religion, and the Good 249

CÉCILE LABORDE

11. Religious Arguments and Public Justification 273

AURÉLIA BARDON

12. Religious Truth and Democratic Freedom:
A Critique of the Religious Discourse of Anti-Relativism 293

CARLO INVERNIZZI ACCETTI

13. Republicanism and Freedom of Religion in France 316

MICHEL TROPER

Part IV: Sovereignty and Legal Pluralism in Constitutional Democracies

14. Sovereignty and Religious Norms in the Secular Constitutional State 341

DIETER GRIMM

15. Religion and Minority Legal Orders 358

MALEIHA MALIK

16. The Intersection of Civil and Religious Family Law in the U.S.
Constitutional Order: A Mild Legal Pluralism 379

LINDA C. MCCLAIN

17. Religion-Based Legal Pluralism and Human Rights in Europe 400

ALICIA CEBADA ROMERO

Conclusion: Is Religion Special? 423

CÉCILE LABORDE

Contributors 435

Index 439