

CONTENTS

Foreword by Hans Urs von Balthasar . . . . . 9

JOSEPH CARDINAL RATZINGER

- I. "My Word Shall Not Return To Me Empty!":
Isaiah 55:10-11; Matthew 6:7-15 . . . . . 13
- II. Thoughts on the Place of Marian Doctrine and Piety in Faith and Theology as a Whole . . . . . 19
  1. *The Background and Significance of the Second
Vatican Council's Declarations on Mariology* . . . . . 19
  2. The Positive Function of Mariology in Theology . . . 25
  3. The Place of Mariology in the Whole of Theology . . 27
  4. Mariology—Anthropology—Faith in Creation . . . 31
  5. Marian Piety . . . . . 33
- III. The Sign of the Woman: An Introductory Essay on the Encyclical Redemptoris Mater . . . . . 37
  - I. Methodological Aspects . . . . . 38
    1. Reading the Bible as a Whole . . . . . 38
    2. The Feminine Line in the Bible . . . . . 41
    3. A Historical and Dynamic Mariology . . . . . 45
    4. Bimillennarism? . . . . . 46
  - II. Four Focal Points of the Text . . . . . 48
    1. Mary—The Believer . . . . . 48
    2. The Sign of the Woman . . . . . 51

3. Marian Mediation . . . . .	53
4. Interpretation of the Marian Year . . . . .	59
IV. "Hail, Full of Grace": Elements of Marian Piety according to the Bible . . . . .	61
Mary, Daughter Zion—Mother of Believers . . . . .	64
Mary as Prophetess . . . . .	70
Mary in the Paschal Mystery . . . . .	75
V. "Et Incarnatus Est de Spiritu Sancto ex Maria Virgine" . . . . .	81
1. The Grammar and Content of the Sentence "Et Incarnatus Est" in the Creed . . . . .	82
2. "Et Incarnatus Est": The Biblical Background . . . . .	84
a. Matthew 1:18-25 . . . . .	84
b. Luke 1:26-38 . . . . .	87
c. The Prologue of John's Gospel . . . . .	90
3. God's Footprints . . . . .	93

HANS URS VON BALTHASAR

I. Mary In The Church's Doctrine and Devotion . . . . .	99
Introduction . . . . .	99
I. Mary's Relation to the Person and Work of Her Son . . . . .	102
1. A New Aspect . . . . .	102
2. The Dimensions of the Marian Yes . . . . .	104
3. Mary's Education as Mother of the Church . . . . .	107

4. Archetype of the Church . . . . .	110
5. Jesus and Mary . . . . .	113
II. Mary in the Church's Devotion . . . . .	114
1. Veneration of Mary . . . . .	116
2. Veneration and Imitation . . . . .	119
3. Why Mary Stands out in the Communion of Saints . . . . .	121
II. The Marian Mold of the Church . . . . .	125
Owing Thanks for Oneself in the Order of Creation . .	126
Owing Thanks for Oneself in the Order of Grace:
Christ . . . . .	129
Owing Thanks for Oneself in the Order of Grace:
The Christian . . . . .	133
The Church and Mary . . . . .	138
Type and Archetype . . . . .	141
III. Conceived by the Holy Spirit, Born of the Virgin Mary . . . . .	145
IV. The Catholicity of the Church . . . . .	157
Anthropological Catholicity . . . . .	158
Christological Catholicity . . . . .	162
Acknowledgments . . . . .	177