

Contents

Introduction (Tomáš Černušák)	9
1. Relations between the Papacy and the Czech Lands as a Research Subject (Jaroslav Pánek)	13
2. The Czech Lands and the Papacy in the Early Middle Ages (Josef Žemlička)	27
2.1. Great Moravia, Rome and the beginnings of provincial churches in the Christianisation process	27
2.2. Between the empire and the papacy	34
2.3. Stabilisation of Czech-Curial relations	49
3. Papacy of the High and Late Middle Ages and the Czech Kingdom (1198–1417) (Zdeňka Hledíková)	61
3.1. The rise and fall of the notion of the papacy. Czech Přemyslid Kingdom	62
3.2. Changed situation under the Avignon papacy and first two Kings of Bohemia of the Luxembourg dynasty	81
3.3. The Great Western Schism and its elimination; changes during the period of Wenceslaus IV	101
4. The Papacy and the Czech Lands between Reform and Reformation (1417–1526) (Antonín Kalous)	115
4.1. Restoration of papal power, councils and Hussitism	116
4.2. The victory of papalism, new attempts at communication	124
4.3. The new war and its solution	129

4.4.	Prague archdiocese	135
4.5.	Wrocław and Olomouc	138
4.6.	Turn of the 15 th and 16 th century and start of the German Reformation	141
5.	Relations of the Apostolic See to the Czech Lands during the Reformation and Confessionalisation (1526–1620)
	(Tomáš Černušák)	147
5.1.	The religious plan of Ferdinand I and the papacy	148
5.2.	Papacy in the period after the Council of Trent and the beginnings of Confessionalisation of the Czech Lands	156
5.3.	Personal and cultural relations between the Czech lands and papal Rome	181
6.	The Papacy and State Recatholicisation of the Czech Lands (1620–1740)
	(Tomáš Parma)	185
6.1.	From the White Mountain to the period following the Peace of Westphalia	186
6.2.	The reign of Leopold I and Joseph I – from the Turkish wars to the war with the pope	198
6.3.	The reign of Charles VI – from recatholicisation to the Enlightenment	204
7.	The Papacy and the Application of Josephinian Reforms in Central Europe (1740–1804)
	(Tomáš Parma)	209
7.1.	Early Josephinism during the reign of Maria Theresa	210
7.2.	High Josephinism – Joseph II and his reforms	220
7.3.	Late Josephinism in relation to the papacy	230
8.	Bohemia and Moravia between Vienna and Rome in the Last Century of the Habsburg Monarchy (1804–1918)
	(Jitka Jonová)	233
8.1.	Continuation of Josephinism in the first half of the 19 th century	234
8.2.	From revolution (1848) to the concordat (1855)	238
8.3.	Occupation of the Ecclesiastical State and the First Vatican Council	243
8.4.	The pontificate of Leo XIII and the Cyril and Methodius jubilee	246
8.5.	Formation of future church elite	251

8.6.	Czech versus Germans – attempt to found an independent German diocese located in Cheb	252
8.7.	Appointments to episcopal sees and the question of the Olomouc chapter	255
8.8.	The pontificates of Pius X and Benedict XV and the question of Czech Catholic modernism	259
8.9.	Appointment of bishops – the Kohn case and “Episcopal Reshuffle” in 1916	261
8.10.	First World War and the end of the Habsburg monarchy	264
9.	The Czech Lands and the Vatican after 1918
	(Jaroslav Šebek)	267
9.1.	Mutual relations during inter-war period	268
9.2.	The Czech Lands and the Holy See during the Second World War	283
9.3.	Relations between the papacy and the Czech Lands in the years 1945–1948	287
9.4.	Czechoslovak-Vatican relations under the communist regime	289
9.5.	Development in the post-November era	304
	Conclusions
	(Tomáš Černušák)	309
	Selected Bibliography	315
	Riassunto	357
	Authors	361
	Index	363