

22w

Power and Policy in

THE THIRD WORLD

Third Edition

Robert P. Clark

6.2
LAR

COMPARING POLITICAL SYSTEMS

Power and Policy in Three Worlds, Third Edition

Gary Bertsch, University of Georgia,
Robert Clark, George Mason University, and
David Wood, University of Missouri

This outstanding text provides a coherent framework for the comparison and analysis of the three major systems of government—democratic, communist, and Third World—with particular emphasis on power and policy issues. Using a topical orientation rather than the traditional country-by-country approach, the authors show how each system attempts to solve social and economic problems, and considers the impact of these solutions on human values.

Power and Policy in

COMMUNIST SYSTEMS

Third Edition

Gary Bertsch, University of Georgia

An innovative policy approach to the study of communist systems. The book explores the relationship between policy goals, actions, and outcomes. It is also the first text to compare the effects of differing communist systems on human values and dignity.

Power and Policy in

WESTERN EUROPEAN DEMOCRACIES

Third Edition

David Wood, University of Missouri

This innovative text takes a comparative analytic approach to the study of Western European governments. Concise yet comprehensive, it gives your students a clear picture of social and economic decision-making processes in democratic systems of government.

CONTENTS

---

Introduction:

Studying Politics in the Third World ix

Why Study the Third World? ix

The Fundamentals of Politics in the Third World xi

The Plan of the Book xiv

Chapter One.

The Impact of Colonialism on Third World Politics 3

The Colonial Period 3

An Assessment of Colonial Rule 8

The Decolonization Process Since 1945 16

Conclusions: Ethnonationalism and Human Dignity 18

Chapter Two.

Social and Economic Problems in the Third World 21

Introducing the Third World 21

Global Inequality: An Overview 23

The Causes of Inequality: Some Popular Theories 29

Conclusions: Economic and Social Barriers to Human Dignity 47

Chapter Three.

Psychological Aspects of Modernization 49

From Tradition to Modernity:

The Dimensions of Change 49

Psychological Consequences of Rapid Change 55

Iran, Islam, Revolution: A Case Study in Religion and Politics 58

Psychocultural Modernization: Social Agents and Public Policies 61

Conclusions: Psychological Modernization and Human Dignity 70

Chapter Four.

Political Participation in the Third World 72

Dimensions of Political Participation 72

Elections in Third World Politics 74

Violence in Third World Politics 77

Increased Participation: The Institutional Dimension 83

Patron-Client Politics: The Failure of Institution Building 93

Conclusions: Political Participation and Human Dignity 95

Chapter Five.

Government Structures in the Third World 97

Political Implications of Delayed Industrialization 97

Minor Networks: Patron-Client Politics 102

The Separation of Powers 104

Major Networks: The Dominant
Executive 106

Major Networks: The Military
Bureaucracy 108

Conclusions: Government Structures and
Human Dignity 115

Chapter Six.

Polycymaking in the Third World 118

Polycymaking in the Third World:
An Overview 118

Polycymaking in the Third World: Goals,
Actions, Outcomes 120

Conclusions: Polycymaking and Human Dignity 134

Chapter Seven.

Political Performance in the
Third World 138

Goals, Actions, Outcomes: Power 139

Goals, Actions, Outcomes: Well-Being 146

Goals, Actions, Outcomes: Enlightenment 154

Goals, Actions, Outcomes: Respect 161

Conclusions: Enhancing Human Dignity in
the Third World 164

Why Is There So Little Upheaval in the
Third World? 166

Photo Credits 169

Index 171