

Contents

Figure Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	x
1 What do you do when you argue a case?	1
Claims and conclusions
Reasons and inference
Titles as questions
Support for a conclusion
2 How will you make yourself clear?	19
Vagueness and definition
Assumptions
Ambiguity and conflation
Ordering and indicating
3 What case have others made?	41
Counter-claims
Counter-argument
Selection and evaluation of sources
Reputation and expertise
4 What do you make of these arguments?	59
Overstatement and straw man
Causes and conditions
Appeals to the past
Appeals to feelings
5 How will you support your case?	82
Examples and anecdotes
Facts and factual claims
Statistical evidence
Credibility and corroboration
6 How much can you be sure about?	103
Certainty and plausibility
Deductive argument
Conditional claims
Logic and truth
7 How much is a matter of belief?	123
Point of view
Belief and opinion
Bias and neutrality
Values and principles
8 Are you over-simplifying the issue?	143
Ad hominem and tu quoque ploys
False dichotomy
Over-generalization
Analogy and slippery slope

9 Does your argument hang together? 165

- Contradiction
- Consistency and coherence
- Changing the subject
- Begging the question

10 How will you lay out your case? 185

- Structure of reasoning
- Intermediate conclusion
- Alternative inferences
- Quotation and referencing

A summary of recommendations for effective argument made in this book 207

Exemplar arguments 208

Responses to questions 216

Index 231