

Contents

Abbreviations	xiv
1. History, Terms, Identity, and Themes	1
Historical background	2
Apologetics and fundamental theology	4
Terms and boundaries	5
Themes for fundamental theology	15
A coda: the contribution of Bernard Lonergan	16
2. Faith in a Personal God	18
The divine attributes	19
Special divine activity	22
The existence of God	29
Approaches to the God-question	34
Conclusion	35
3. The Human Condition	37
Four possible visions	37
Homo sapiens	42
Religious experience	52
4. General and Special Revelation	56
General revelation	57
General revelation and faith	61
Special revelation	65
Means of revelation	74
Word and event	79
Mediators of special revelation	83
Discerning the prophetic experience	87
True and false prophets	90
Conclusion	92

5. Jesus the Fullness of Revelation	96
The fourfold witness to the historical Jesus	97
The preaching of the kingdom: parables and miracles	106
The kingdom in person	114
The Trinity revealed?	120
Revelation past, present, and future	128
6. The Crucified and Resurrected Revealer	136
Revelation through the cross	138
Revelation through the resurrection	144
A case for the resurrection	146
The meaning of the claim	147
The Easter appearances	149
The discovery of the empty tomb	154
Novelties to explain	156
The resurrection as revealing	159
7. The Faith that Responds to Revelation	166
Three Positions	168
A narrative theology of faith	179
Some conclusions	188
8. Tradition and the Traditions	190
The human reality of tradition	192
Christian tradition	194
Toward an ecumenical convergence?	196
Discerning the tradition within the traditions	207
Revelation, tradition, and Scripture	212
9. Revelation, the Bible, and Inspiration	216
The formation of the Bible	216
The use of the Bible	220
The inspiration of the Bible	223
The function of inspiration	231
10. The Truth, Canon, and Interpretation of the Bible	234
The saving truth of the Bible	234
The canon of Scriptures	244
Interpreting the Bible	253
A coda: hearing the word	261

11. The Founding of the Church	265
The founder of the Church	268
The call of the Twelve	275
Any time for the Church?	278
The early Church	279
Early leadership	283
Into the second century	287
The kingdom and the Church	291
12. World Religions and Christ the Revealer and Saviour	292
Two preliminaries	293
The doctrinal background	294
The universal presence of Christ	298
Christ's universal presence and the religious	303
The transformation of Christ	307
The permanence of Christ's humanity	308
The universal presence of the Holy Spirit	311
The faith of others and the Church	317
A coda: the omnipresence of the risen Christ	319
13. Theological Styles and Methods	322
Three styles of theology	323
Risks and possibilities	329
Some guidelines	331
Epilogue	342
Index of Names	345
Subject Index	353
Biblical Index	355