

Contents

Contributors	viii
1 Introduction Vincent Barnett	1
PART I
Europe	15
2 England Roger Middleton	17
3 Scotland Alexander Dow and Sheila Dow	38
4 Ireland Renee Prendergast	48
5 Italy Pier Luigi Porta	58
6 Greece Michalis M. Psalidopoulos	68
7 Spain and Portugal José Luís Cardoso and Luis Perdices de Blas	77
8 Germany: from sciences of state to modern economics Erik Grimmer-Solem	86
9 Sweden Lars Magnusson	95
10 Russia and Ukraine François Allisson	102

PART II
The Americas	111
11 United States of America	113
J.E. King
12 Canada	130
Robin Neill
13 Mexico and Central America	140
Richard Weiner
14 The Caribbean	149
Mark Figueroa
15 Spanish-speaking South America: politicized economic thought	158
Verónica Montecinos
16 Brazil: a very big and complicated country	167
Patrice Franko
PART III
The Middle East	177
17 Turkey and the Turkic linguistic zone: the case that doesn't quite fit	179
Eyüp Özveren
18 Israel	189
Yuval Yonay and Arie Krampf
19 Arab-Islamic Economics	202
S.M. Ghazanfar
20 Persia/Iran	216
Hamid Hosseini
21 North Africa: from boom to bust to revolution	228
Hamed El-Said
PART IV
Africa	241
22 West Africa	243
Gareth Austin and Gerardo Serra

23	Southern Africa Tidings P. Ndhlovu and Nene Ernest Khalema	257
24	Angola and Mozambique: Marxist or market? Steven Kyle	269
PART V
The Asia-Pacific region		279
25	Australia and New Zealand: a young tree dead? William Coleman	281
26	China: 2,500 years of economic thought Zagros Madjd-Sadjadi	294
27	Southeast Asia: Indonesia and Malaysia Cassey Lee and Thee Kian Wie	306
28	The Asian Tigers Takashi Kanatsu	315
29	India Balakrishnan Chandrasekaran	323
30	Conclusion Vincent Barnett	337
	Author index	341
	Place index	346