

CONTENTS

Preface

v

1

Perspectives on Presidential Power 1

Excesses of Presidential Power	2	The Need for a Strong Presidency	9
The Sun King Complex	3	The Imperiled Presidency	10
Nixon as Radical	5	Practical Politics	12
Democratic Ground Rules	8	Presidential Types	14

2

Beginnings 18

The New York Governor	19	Structural Concepts	27
The Philadelphia Convention	20	The Presidency Begins	29
Decisions at Philadelphia	22	Presidential Strength: George Washington	30
Drafting the Presidential Article	25	Presidential Weakness: John Adams	33
Makers of the Presidency	26

3

Selection 35

The Preconvention Struggle	36	The Electoral College	54
Preconvention Strategies	38	Defects of the Electoral College	56
The National Nominating Convention	40	Alternatives to the Electoral College	58
The Convention Decides	44	The Future Presidency	61

4

Tenure 63

Resignation	65	Handling Disability: The Twenty-fifth Amendment	81
Impeachment	66	Succession	84
The President and Legal Processes	73	Presidential Transitions	86
Disability	76	The Future Presidency	89

5

Publics 92

The President and Public Opinion	92	The President-Constituency Influence Process	98
Constituencies	95	Roles	102

The Mass Media	103	The President as Consensus Leader	111
Communications Experts	104		112
The News Conference	105	The Majoritarian President	113
The Art of News Management	108	The Future Presidency

6

Party Chief 115

The President and His Party	115	Eisenhower as a Bipartisan	135
The Presidential Nominee	119	Kennedy and the Urban Era	138
Winning Renomination	121	Johnson the Consensus Leader	141
The Congressional Party	123	Nixon and the New American Majority	144
The Jeffersonian Success Model	126		146
Those Who Failed	129	The Future Presidency
Franklin Roosevelt as Party Leader	131

7

Legislative Leader 150

The Good Legislative Years	151	Congressional Majorities	161
Congress and the President: An Imbalance?	153	Open and Closed Politics	164
Congress and the President: Basic Differences	158	Approaches to Legislative Leadership	168
Inside Congress	159	The Future Presidency	176

8

Administrative Chief 181

Congress as Administrator	183	Kennedy's Personal Management	196
The Bureaucracy	184	Johnson's Consensus Method	200
The Presidential Staff	185	Nixonian Centralism	202
Roosevelt as Administrator	189	Ford: Centralism Diminished	208
Eisenhower's Staff System	192	The Future Presidency	210

9

Chief Diplomat 213

The Two Presidencies	213	The President's Staff	224
Constitutional Limitations	215	Foreign Leaders	229
Presidential War	217	Summit Conferences	231
Cooperation with Congress	220	Alliances	233
The Foreign Aid Program	221	The United Nations	235
The Secretary of State	222	The Future Presidency	236

10

Commander-in-Chief 239

Limitations on Presidential Power	239	Communist War-making	253
The Defense Department	240	Alliances	254
The President and the Generals	242	Nuclear Weaponry	256
Sources of Authority	245	The Scientific Community	259
The Courts	248	The Future Presidency	261

11

The Economy 264

The President as Friend of Business	265	Business's Weapons	277
Winning Business Confidence	267	Labor Leaders and the President	279
Frictions	270	How Presidents Are Useful to Labor	283
How Presidents Fight Business	271	Labor-Management Disputes	288
The "New Economics"	274	The Future Presidency	291

12

Social Justice 293

A Historical View	294	Early Efforts for Civil Rights	314
The President as Social Critic	299	John Kennedy and Civil Rights	315
The Limitations of Politics	301	Lyndon Johnson and Civil Rights	319
The President Keeps the Balance	303	Richard Nixon and the Black Community	319
Reform as Legislation	305
The Executive Branch	309	A Ford Is Not a Lincoln	320
How Presidents Resist Social Programs	312	Limitations of Power	322
		An Overview	324

13

Political Personality 326

Values	327	What Kind of Strong President Is Most Compatible with Democracy?	339
Goals	331	Views of the Presidency	340
Style	333	An Overview	341
High-Democracy and Low-Democracy Presidential Types	336

14

Decision-Making 343

Varieties of Decision	343	Consequences	356
The Environment	346	Pathologies of Decision-Making: The Case of the Vietnam War	357
The Alternatives	348	An Overview	358
Choice-Making	351
Making the Decision Known	354

15

Conflict 360

Types of Conflict	361	Gradients of Conflict	365
The President as Conflict Generator	362	Conflict-Solving	368
Conflict as Political Exchange	363	Crisis	369

16

The Presidency Compared 381

The Governor	381	The British Prime Minister	395
The Mayor	385	The Parliamentary System Evaluated	398
Foreign Executives: Selection and Tenure	388	The Administrative State	400
Succession Compared	391	Decision-Making Compared	403
The British Parliamentary System	394	The Presidency Abroad	405

Epilogue: The Future of the American Presidency 407

Notes 411

Presidents of the United States 425

Constitutional Provisions Relating to the Presidency 426

Sources 431

Index 440