CONTENTS

1. Introduction: Reconstructing Judicial Review 1
   - I. The Reformation of Administrative Law and Judicial Review 1
   - II. Interpretations of Judicial Review 3
   - III. The Dual Nature of Law and The Methodology of This Study: Constructive Interpretation 5
   - IV. The History of Judicial Review and Manifest Interpretations 7
   - V. Judicial Review and Values 16
   - VI. An Operative Interpretation of Judicial Review 18
   - VII. A New Taxonomy of Grounds of Review 24
   - VIII. A Target Interpretation of Judicial Review and Judicial Rationality 28
   - IX. Judicial Review For The Advancement of Justice and Good Governance 30

2. The Dual Nature of Law and the Methodology of this Study: Constructive Interpretation 32
   - I. Legal Theory and Empirical Analysis: The Argument For Separation 33
   - II. Rationality and Empiricism 35
   - III. Positivism 36
   - IV. Constructive Interpretation 37
   - V. Sociolegal Research: Social Scientific Positivism, Interpretivism and Constructivism 43
   - VI. The Methodology of This Study 48
     - A. Specific Methodology 50
       - i. Administrative Court Data Analysis 50
       - ii. Surveys 51
       - iii. Interviews and Workshop 52

3. Judicial Review and Values 53
   - I. The Triptych of Constitutional Values 53
   - II. The Rule of Law and The Value of Legality 55
   - III. Democracy, Equality and Liberty 60
   - IV. Authority and Expertise 66
   - V. Legal Justice and Legal Rationality V's Administrative Justice and Administrative Rationality 70

VI. Public Interest and Common Good 74
VII. The Advancement of Justice and Good Governance 77

4. An Operative Interpretation of Judicial Review: Social Practice and the Administrative Court's Caseload 79
I. The (In)Significance of The Administrative Court's Caseload? 80
II. No Longer An 'Asylum and Immigration Court with Knobs On' 84
III. Types of Administrative Court Claim 88
IV. The Tribunalisation of Judicial Review 93
V. Administrative Court AJRs and Individual Grievances: Specific Topics 103
VI. The Permission Lottery 105
VII. An Operative Interpretation of Administrative Court Judicial Review 110

5. An Operative Interpretation of Judicial Review: Community Justice 114
I. Common Law Community Justice and 'Regionalisation' 115
II. Community-Based Public Law 116
A. Total Outside London Receipts 117
B. Ordinary Civil Judicial Review 117
C. The Scale of Judicial Review and Population 119
D. Key Topics of AJR Claims 122
E. Asylum and Immigration 124
III. Legal Specialisation and The Purposes of Judicial Review 127
A. Solicitors 130
B. Counsel 134
IV. Claimants In AJRs: Judicial Review as Community Justice? 135
V. Litigants in Person 135
VI. Defendants 139
VII. An Operative Interpretation of Judicial Review as Community Justice 140
VIII. The Advancement of Justice and Good Governance 142

6. An Operative Taxonomy of Grounds of Review: Part One 144
I. Methodology 146
II. The 'Grammar' of Judicial Review 148
III. Ground One: Procedural Impropriety 148
IV. Ground Two: Mistake 152
V. Ground Three: Ordinary Common Law Statutory Interpretation 157

7. An Operative Taxonomy of Grounds of Review: Part Two 168
I. Ground Four: Discretionary Impropriety (Relevant/Irrelevant Considerations, Lack of Justification) 168

II. Ground Five: Breach of ECHR Protected Rights and Equality Duties 178
III. Ground Six: Significant Claims (Common Law Constitutional Values, Rights or Allocation of Powers, and Public Interest Claims) 183

8. A Target Interpretation of Judicial Review and Judicial Rationality 193
I. Individualised Justice and Contextualism 193
II. The 'Rainbow of Review' 194
III. Variable Intensity Factors 198
IV. A Different Order of Factors, Bifurcated or Trifurcated Review 199
V. Uncertainty 203
VI. Balance 207
VII. An 'Organic' Approach To Rationality 209

9. Judicial Review for the Advancement of Justice and Good Governance 212
I. Organic Rationality 212
II. Organic Rationality, 'Counterpoint' and Case Law 216
III. Judicial Review For The Advancement of Justice and Good Governance 222

Bibliography 229
Index 243