

Contents

Notes on contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	xvii
Introduction by Pat Dolan and Nick Frost	xviii

PART I

Historical and theoretical perspectives 1

Introduction to Part I
Pat Dolan and Nick Frost

- | | | |
|---|--|----|
| 1 | Children, parents and the family: 1500–1900
Linda Pollock | 3 |
| 2 | Historical themes in child welfare: the emergence of early child welfare structures
Nick Frost | 19 |
| 3 | Children and childhood: viewed through different disciplinary lenses
Hazel Wright | 32 |

PART II

Parenting, resilience and community support 45

Introduction to Part II
Pat Dolan and Nick Frost

- | | | |
|---|--|----|
| 4 | Community development approaches in response to neoliberalism: the example of Eskasoni Mental Health Services, Canada
Linda Liebenberg and Daphne Hutt-Macleod | 47 |
| 5 | The centrality of community: achieving child and youth welfare
Sarah Eissler and Mark Brennan | 59 |
| 6 | Universal service provision for children and young people: a challenge for policy makers
Roger Smith | 75 |

Contents

7	Child welfare practice in New Zealand: challenges and possibilities Robyn Munford and Jackie Sanders	85
PART III
Family support		97
	Introduction to Part III Pat Dolan and Nick Frost
8	Promoting children's welfare through Family Support Carmel Devaney	99
9	Contemporary young motherhood: global perspectives of everyday experiences Barry Fearnley	109
10	The relevance of civic engagement for child and youth welfare: lessons learnt from socialist and post-socialist Slovenia Tanja Kovačič and Pat Dolan	124
11	Children's rights, social justice and family support: developing inclusive, socially just and participatory practice John M. Davis and Mary Smith	137
PART IV
Crime and violence against children		151
	Introduction to Part IV Pat Dolan and Nick Frost
12	Preventing child sexual exploitation: would an international age of consent to sexual activity help secure the welfare of children? Jenny Pearce	153
13	Child labour exploitation: a historical and global view Gary Craig	165
14	Child welfare and Serbia on the path towards European integration Nevenka Žegarac	176
15	The impact of intimate partner violence on children: a global and developmental analysis Hannah Clark and Sandra A. Graham-Bermann	199
16	The impact of exposure to domestic abuse on children and young people: lessons from research Stephanie Holt	211

17	Comparing child protection systems: towards a global perspective Nigel Parton	225
PART V
	Substitute care	243
	Introduction to Part V Pat Dolan and Nick Frost
18	Kinship care for children and young people: international perspectives J.P. Gleeson	245
19	International adoption: a global challenge Oh Myo Kim, JaeRan Kim and Randy Tarnowski	262
20	Residential care for children and young people: policy and practice challenges Claudia Mollidor and David Berridge	280
21	Institutionalization and the commodification of children: how to ensure children regain their right to family life Georgette Mulheir and Lynn Lina Gyllensten	293
PART VI
	Promoting positive practice	313
	Introduction to Part VI Pat Dolan and Nick Frost
22	From relationship-based practice in child welfare services to co-production with families Nuala Connolly, Liam White and Mirja Satka	315
23	Multi-disciplinary work with children and young people: process and outcomes Nick Frost	326
24	Youth mentoring as a form of support for children and young people at risk: insights from research and practice Caroline McGregor, Mary Lynch and Bernadine Brady	345
25	Activated social empathy in child welfare and youth development: a case for consideration Pat Dolan, James Kenny and Danielle Kennan	358

Contents

26	The use of play skills during child protection and welfare assessments: building relationships with children to explore attachment relationships Lisa O'Reilly and Pat Dolan	369
	Conclusion Pat Dolan and Nick Frost	381
	Index	385