

Contents

List of Illustrations	xi
List of Maps	xiii
A Note on Names	xv
Introduction: Socialism, Nationalism, and Democracy	1
1. Narrating Socialism in Habsburg Austria	18
Building a Poetic Organization	22
The Path of Christ	44
2. Exclusion from the Nation	53
Social Exclusion in Space	56
Everyday Ethnicity and Workers' Internationalism	58
Exclusion from the Ranks of the Staatsvolk	67
Exclusion from the Unified Národ	75
1897 and Beyond	87
3. Storms of November	99
Suffrage as Revolutionary Utopia	101
The Argument of the Streets	115
Seizing the Nation	131
Coda: May 1907	139
4. Socialist Hussites, Marxist Wagnerians	143
The Most National Party	145
Genuine Schillerfeste	151
Edifying Working-Class Nations	158
Returns to Lipany	162
Völkisch Visions and Rising Resentment	169
5. The Logics of Separatism	173
A Nation on the Advance	176
Working Apart	186
Learning Apart	193
The Vices of Large Nations	201
Class Ethos Remains	209

6. War and Revolution	212
War Performance and the Working Class	214
Weathering the Storm: The Social Democratic Leadership	219
Socialist Workers Make Sense of the Cataclysm	229
Conclusion: Ideology and Utopia	239
Works Cited	245
Index	263

List of Illustrations

1.1. František Cajthaml-Liberté	19
1.2. Marie Majerová	33
1.3. František Soukup	42
1.4. Franz Schuhmeier	43
2.1. A cartoon from the 1908 Czech worker calendar	79
3.1. An illustration from the 1906 Czech May Day pamphlet	111
3.2. An illustration from the 1907 Austrian-German May Day pamphlet	112
3.3. A full-page insert in the 1907 Austrian-German May Day pamphlet	113
3.4. A workers' agitation poster from Brno, November 1905	114
3.5. A workers' effigy of Minister-President Paul Gautsch from Brno, November 1905	121
3.6. Demonstrators before the parliament building in Vienna in 1905	127
3.7. Social Democratic leaders approach the entrance to parliament, November 28, 1905	128
3.8. A memorial poem to the Prague glassworker Jan Hubač	136
4.1. Engelbert Pernerstorfer	152
5.1. An illustration from the 1904 Austrian German worker calendar	206