

Table of Contents

1. Different Ways of Thinking about International Law	1
1.1 Aim	1
1.2 Reflexivity	3
1.3 Doing Law versus Thinking about Law	5
1.4 Theory and Practice	7
1.5 The Scientific Field	9
1.6 Interdisciplinarity and Its Implications: International Law &...	11
1.7 Book Structure and Choices	13
1.8 Theory as Worldmaking	16
1.9 Takeaways	19
Suggested Readings	20
2. Traditional Approaches	21
2.1 The Mirror of Tradition	21
2.2 A Jurisprudence of Boundaries	24
2.3 Demiurge in the Name of Reason	30
2.4 Twin Sister of the Official Discourse?	33
2.5 Style and Attitudes	36
2.6 Like a Phoenix	39
Suggested Readings	43
3. Constitutionalism and Global Governance	44
3.1 A 'German Discipline'	44
3.2 Domestic Law Paradigms and Beyond	46
3.3 The End of Politics	51
3.4 Modes and Techniques	54
3.5 Global Administrative Law	61
3.6 Visions of Global Governance	66
Suggested Readings	71
4. Marxism	72
4.1 Marx as Political Philosopher and Popular Culture Icon	72
4.2 Soviet Theories Distinguished	73
4.3 Revived Interest: 'Between Equal Rights'	76
4.4 Marxist Analysis: A Tool Kit	80
4.5 Form versus Content: A Marxist Agenda	85
4.6 International Law: Doom or Salvation?	87
Suggested Readings	90

5. The New Haven School	91
5.1 A Man with a Vision	91
5.2 The Policy-Oriented Approach	94
5.3 The Dialectics between Authority and Power	96
5.4 Values and the Goal of International Law	97
5.5 The Observational Standpoint	99
5.6 Harvard's Legal Process School Distinguished	101
5.7 The New 'New Haven' or Transnational Legal Process	102
5.8 Legacy and Critique	105
Suggested Readings	109
6. International Relations and Social Science Methodologies	110
6.1 Contested Kinship	110
6.2 Dual or Double Agenda?	113
6.3 Resistance	116
6.4 Interaction(al)	119
6.5 Dialogue Reviewed	121
6.6 The Turn to Empirical Studies	126
6.7 Generic Inroads	131
Suggested Readings	134
7. Critical Legal Studies and the New Stream	135
7.1 Law is Politics	135
7.2 Against the Reproduction of Hierarchies	140
7.3 Critical Theory in International Law Scholarship: the 'New Stream'	142
7.4 The Indeterminacy Thesis Applied: ' From Apology to Utopia '	147
7.5 'New Stream' Scholarship Legacy	150
7.6 Style and Critique	156
7.7 The Profession as Subject	161
Suggested Readings	162
8. The Helsinki School	163
8.1 The Origin Myth of a Man with Projects	163
8.2 Critical Introspection and Structural Bias	165
8.3 (Other) People with Projects: The Turn to History	168
8.4 Against Managerialism (and Other Styles)	172
8.5 The Morality of the Agnostic	174
8.6 Retreat into History	179
Suggested Readings	181
9. Feminism	183
9.1 Genealogy	183
9.2 Against Objectivity: Unearthing the Structures of Gender Bias	186

9.3 Feminist Perspectives and Sensibilities	189
9.4 Recurrent Dichotomies and Traditional Themes	193
9.5 The Feminist Paradox: Re-instantiating Difference	197
9.6 Movement, Critique, and the Quest for Efficacy	201
Suggested Readings	204
10. Third World Approaches	205
10.1 Unveiling the Hierarchical Nature of International Law	205
10.2 Sovereignty as Empowerment	210
10.3 The Emergence of TWAIL II	215
10.4 History Contested: International Law as Empire	217
10.5 The New Colonial Order	221
10.6 Constituting the International: Repoliticizing and Engaging with International Law	223
Suggested Readings	226
11. Legal Pluralism	227
11.1 Fragments	227
11.2 Antidote to Fragmentation Anxieties	231
11.3 Perspectives on Global Law	234
11.4 Plurality of Social Rationalities	238
11.5 Pluralism as Professional Opportunity	242
Suggested Readings	244
12. Social Idealism	246
12.1 Tradition and Discontinuity	246
12.2 Revolution in the Mind	248
12.3 Law's Psychic Existence and Its Function	252
12.4 Evil	253
12.5 Path to Redemption	255
12.6 Apodictic Style	257
12.7 Thinking the 'Unthought': Object and Purpose	259
Suggested Readings	262
13. Law and Economics	263
13.1 Law is Efficient	263
13.2 Concepts, Techniques, and Analogies	268
13.3 Rational Choice Examined	271
13.4 Sources and Modelling: Customs and Treaties Explained	273
13.5 World Visions: L&E 'Lite'	277
13.6 Rationality Challenged: Behavioural L&E	280
13.7 Beyond the Can Opener: Problems and Prospects	284
Suggested Readings	286

14. Law and Literature	287
14.1 The Commonality of Language and the Centrality of Text	287
14.2 Law in Literature	289
14.3 Storytelling and Narratives	291
14.4 Audience and Speaker	296
14.5 Persuasion, Style, and the Ars Inveniendi	298
14.6 Rhetoric	302
14.7 Interpretive Communities	304
14.8 Navigating through the Human Condition	306
Suggested Readings	310
Epilogue	311
Index	313