

Contents

Series editor's preface	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
Introduction: an intimate loneliness	1
Social and cultural contexts in coping with bereavement	2
An intimate loneliness	3
Intimacy and making sense of bereavement	3
Death, relationships and the challenge to reality	4
Problems of communication following bereavement	5
Contradictory grieving: reconciling crises of meaning
among family members	6
Grief, social support and resilience	7
Aims of this book	8
Approaching bereavement from a socio-cultural perspective	9
Outline of the book	12
1 Order out of chaos: personal, social and cultural resources
for making sense of loss	15
Introduction	15
Resources for grieving	16
Social meanings of death and bereavement	20
Constructions of death and grief in professional models
of bereavement	26
Psychotherapeutic models of grief and mourning	27
The challenge of empirical evidence	32
'New' models of grief	34
Systems models of grief	37

viii An intimate loneliness

	Conclusion: bereavement support and issues of meaning	42
	Summary	45
2	A bleak and lonely landscape: problems of adjustment for bereaved parents	48
	Introduction	48
	Problems of 'modern' social attitudes towards death	49
	The importance of social relationships	55
	Parental grief, marital tension and gender	60
	Conclusion: supporting bereaved parents in adjusting to loss	71
	Summary	73
3	What about me? Problems of adjustment for bereaved siblings	76
	Introduction	76
	The uniqueness of sibling bereavement	77
	Problems of adjustment for bereaved siblings	82
	Problems of sibling adjustment in families where a child has a life-threatening illness	90
	Conclusion: resilient siblings, intimate relations and the importance of social support	96
	Summary	97
4	Connections and disconnections: ways family members deal with lost relationships	99
	Introduction	99
	Diversity in adjusting to loss of a child	99
	Social connections and attitudes to bereavement	102
	A cultural context map of grief: self-identity as revealed through bereavement	106
	Exclusion from normal living – no way back, no way forward	108
	The culture of everyday life – moving on, keeping busy	116
	Finding a way back – into the culture of bereavement	121
	Innovators – finding a personal way back and a new way forward	124
	Implications for bereavement support	128
	Summary	129
5	Difficult deaths and problems of adjustment	131
	Introduction	131
	No way forward, no way back	131
	Complicated grief as limbo – caught in marginal social roles	143
	Summary	145

6	Things that help: supporting bereaved parents and brothers and sisters	147
	Introduction	147
	Things that help – little ladders, big levers	148
	Little ladders – support around the dying and death	150
	Helping after the funeral and beyond	161
	Bigger levers – things that help shift perspectives	168
	Summary	174
7	Conclusion: professional support in a post-modern world	176
	Introduction	176
	The danger of simplified models of grief	176
	The skills and knowledge of the ‘professional’ helper	179
	Needs of professionals and volunteers	181
	The bereavement supporter – explorer, guide or companion?	184
	Summary – key ingredients of bereavement support	185
	Appendix: Shoe-strings and bricolage: some notes on the background research project	191
	Approach and methods	191
	Collaboration and ‘face’ validity	195
	Access, bias, ethics and confidentiality	196
	Sample limitations and the nature of our analysis	197
	Links between research project and this book	198
	References	200
	Index	215