

Contents

List of Contributors	page vii
Introduction	1
Vicki C. Jackson and Mark Tushnet
PART I PARADIGMS OF PROPORTIONALITY
1 Proportionality and Rationality	13
Robert Alexy
2 Proportionality Outside the Courts with Special Reference to Popular and Political Constitutionalism	30
Frank I. Michelman
3 Is the Structure of Human Rights Practice Defensible? Three Puzzles and Their Solution	51
Mattias Kumm
4 Proportionality and Absolute Rights	75
Grégoire Webber
PART II PROPORTIONALITY AND THE UNITED STATES
5 The Administrative Origins of Constitutional Rights and Global Constitutionalism	103
Moshe Cohen-Eliya and Iddo Porat
6 US Constitutional Law, Proportionality, and the Global Model	130
Kai Möller

7	Beyond Proportionality: Thinking Comparatively about Constitutional Review and Punitiveness Jacco Bomhoff	148
8	Proportionality and Equality Vicki C. Jackson	171
9	Proportionality and Stare Decisis : Proposal for a New Structure Vlad Perju	197
PART III EXTENDING THE REACH OF PROPORTIONALITY ANALYSIS
10	Positive and Horizontal Rights: Proportionality's Next Frontier or a Bridge Too Far? Stephen Gardbaum	221
11	Proportionality, Reasonableness, and Economic and Social Rights Katharine G. Young	248
12	In Praise of Casuistry: Making Hard Cases Easier David M. Beatty	273
PART IV THOUGHTS FOR THE FUTURE: OF SKEPTICISM AND RESEARCH AGENDAS
13	Making Easy Cases Harder Mark Tushnet	303
14	A Research Agenda for the Future Aharon Barak	322
	Index	337

Robert Alexy, Professor of Law and Germany

Aharon Barak, Professor of Law,

David Beatty, Professor Emeritus
Canada

Jacco Bomhoff, Associate Professor
United Kingdom

Moshe Cohen-Eliya, Professor of Gan, Israel

Stephen Gardbaum, MacArthur
Justice and Human Rights, UC

Vicki C. Jackson, Thurgood Marshall
Harvard Law School, United States

Mattias Kumm, Inge Rennert Professor of Law, United States

Frank I. Michelman, Frank Waterhouse
Harvard University, United States

Kai Möller, Associate Professor of Law
United Kingdom

Vlad Perju, Professor of Law and
Study of Constitutional Democracy

7	Beyond Proportionality: Thinking Comparatively about Constitutional Review and Punitiveness Jacco Bomhoff	148
8	Proportionality and Equality Vicki C. Jackson	171
9	Proportionality and Stare Decisis: Proposal for a New Structure Vlad Perju	197
PART III EXTENDING THE REACH OF PROPORTIONALITY ANALYSIS
10	Positive and Horizontal Rights: Proportionality's Next Frontier or a Bridge Too Far? Stephen Gardbaum	221
11	Proportionality, Reasonableness, and Economic and Social Rights Katharine G. Young	248
12	In Praise of Casuistry: Making Hard Cases Easier David M. Beatty	273
PART IV THOUGHTS FOR THE FUTURE: OF SKEPTICISM AND RESEARCH AGENDAS
13	Making Easy Cases Harder Mark Tushnet	303
14	A Research Agenda for the Future Aharon Barak	322
	Index	337