

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Foreword	xi
Preface.....	xv
Acknowledgements	xxi
Introduction.....	1
Chapter One: The Cultural Production of Controversial Women Writers	9
The Politics of Literary / Cultural Criticism	12
Representational Inevitability vs. Cultural Production	15
Nation, Nationalism, Feminism, and the Female Body	25
Mapping Global Chineseness	35
Toward a New Feminist Literary and Cultural Criticism	46
Chapter Two: Maxine Hong Kingston: Searching for a Heroine	55
The Irreconcilable “Then”	57
The Treacherous Body Canonized and Contained.....	66

The Politics of Authenticity: Autobiography, Gender, and Genre	71
The Flexible "Now": Debating on the Kingston Debate.....	78
Nonfiction or Fiction: Does it Matter?.....	90
The Making of A Woman Warrior	93
Conclusion	107
Chapter Three: Wei Hui: Fashioning the New-Generation Female Author.....	109
Fashioning the New-Generation Female Author: A Production of Shanghai Baby.....	111
Sex and the City: The Femme Fatale, Male Control and Neocolonial Shanghai.....	119
Sex Sells: Beauty Writer, Hot Criticism, and the Media Sensation	134
Pornographizing Shanghai Baby with Hot Reviews [ku ping].....	137
Scandalizing "Beauty Writers" with Hot News.....	140
Sensationalizing Beauty Catfights.....	146
It is a Man's World: Nation, Gender, and the Cultural Production of Authenticity	151

The Female Body, Women's Writings and the Death of Nationalist Feminism	160
Conclusion	174
Chapter Four: Li Ang: Sexualizing National Politics	175
The Incense Burner Incident: Taiwan Literature, Mainstream Media and the "War between (Two) Women"	178
Insinuation, Reading, and Literary Criticism.....	186
The Female Author against Interpellation: Gender, Sexuality, and the Literary History of Taiwan	190
Mapping A New Nation with the Female Body.....	202
The Female Body against Nationalist Interpellation: Sex, Politics, and Scandals.....	214
The Grieving Mother (of the Nation)	215
The Lustful Widow	220
The Unconstrained Woman	224
Conclusion	228
Chapter Five: Li Bihua: Romanticizing the Nation	229
The Phenomenon of Li Bihua's Success.....	232

Hong Kong Literature and Studies on Hong Kong Literature.....	238
Questions on the Popular	244
The Popular Controversy: A Debate on Li Bihua.....	249
Romanticizing the National Space.....	255
Conclusion	267
Conclusion	269
Endnotes.....	277
Bibliography	303
Index	323