

Contents

	Acknowledgements	vi
	Preface	vii
Chapter 1	Theoretical and Conceptual Considerations	1
	The Imperative of Theory	1
	Social Problems: The Great Paradox of the Helping Professions	3
	Order and Conflict/Change Perspectives	8
	Critical Social Theory	16
	Critical Social Work Theory	19
	Modernism and Postmodernism	21
	Major Concepts Associated with Oppression/Anti-Oppression
	Framework	24
	Conclusion	32
	Critical Questions for Discussion	32
	Further Readings	33
Chapter 2	Oppression: An Overview	34
	Diversity, Difference, and Oppression	34
	Social Work Approaches to Difference	37
	The Nature of Oppression	38
	Oppression as a Social Justice Issue	44
	The Genealogy of Modern-day Oppression and the Politics of Identity	48
	The Dynamics of Oppression	53
	Forms of Oppression	55
	Personal, Cultural, and Structural Levels of Oppression	61
	Conclusion	63
	Critical Questions for Discussion	64
	Further Readings	65
Chapter 3	Oppression at the Personal Level	67
	Normalizing Gaze and Objectified Bodies	67
	Acts of Oppression at the Personal Level	68
	Effects of Oppression on the Individual	73
	Surviving Oppression: Responses of Oppressed People at the Personal Level	83
	Critical Social Theory and Personal Oppression	88
	Conclusion	89
	Critical Questions for Discussion	90
	Further Readings	91

Chapter 4	Oppression at the Cultural Level	93
	Introduction	93
	Culture (the 'Poor Cousin' in Social Work)	96
	The Dominant Culture	98
	Popular/Mass Culture	101
	Critical Social Theories of Culture	102
	Stereotypes as Cultural Expressions of Oppression	110
	Language and Discourse as Mechanisms of Oppression (and Anti-Oppression)	114
	Social Work and Cultural Oppression	118
	Conclusion	123
	Critical Questions for Discussion	124
	Further Readings	125
Chapter 5	Oppression at the Structural Level	126
	Introduction	126
	Social Relations and Oppression	127
	The Politics of Difference	135
	Economic Relations and Oppression	138
	Political Relations and Oppression	144
	Effects of Structural Oppression	150
	Social Determinants of Health	154
	Conclusion	156
	Critical Questions for Discussion	158
	Further Readings	158
Chapter 6	Internalized Oppression and Domination	160
	Introduction	160
	Psychology of Oppression	160
	Inferiority and Internalized Oppression	162
	The Master-Slave Paradigm	163
	False Consciousness	167
	Other Perspectives on Internalized Oppression	172
	Psychology of Liberation	178
	Internalized Domination	179
	Conclusion	184
	Critical Questions for Discussion	185
	Further Readings	186
Chapter 7	The 'Web': The Multiplicity, Intersectionality, and Heterogeneity of Oppression	188
	Introduction	188
	Multiple Identities and the Persistence of Domination and Oppression	189
	Models of Multiple Oppressions	191

	Intersections of Oppression: An Analysis	198
	Heterogeneity within Oppressed Groups	203
	Conclusion	217
	Critical Questions for Discussion	218
	Further Readings	218
Chapter 8	Anti-Oppressive Social Work Practice at the Personal and Cultural Levels	220
	Introduction	220
	Anti-Oppressive Practice at the Personal Level	222
	Anti-Oppressive Practice at the Cultural Level	242
	Challenging the Organization	252
	Conclusion	256
	Critical Questions for Discussion	257
	Further Readings	258
Chapter 9	Anti-Oppressive Social Work at the Structural Level and Selected Principles of Anti-Oppressive Social Work	259
	Introduction	259
	Anti-Oppressive Practice at the Structural Level	259
	Selected Principles of Anti-oppressive Social Work Practice	272
	The Constructive Use of Anger	282
	Conclusion	284
	Critical Questions for Discussion	285
	Further Readings	285
Chapter 10	Unpacking Our Knapsacks of Invisible Privilege	287
	Introduction	287
	The Nature of Privilege	288
	Dynamics of Privilege	292
	Why Dominant Groups Do Not See Privilege as a Problem	296
	A Taxonomy of Everyday Examples of Unearned Privilege	299
	Social Work and Privilege	308
	What Can We Do?	311
	Conclusion	318
	Critical Questions for Discussion	319
	Further Readings	320
	Notes	322
	References	328
	Index	343