CONTENTS

Foreword by Benjamin Shield . . . XIII

Author's Preface to the English Edition . . . XVII

PART ONE

0
( )x	very	710	WAT		1
			·VV		1

- 1. Healing and Health for Children and Parents . . . 3
- 2. My First Craniosacral Treatment of a Baby . . . 7
- 3. Craniosacral Therapy . . . 13
- 4. The History of Craniosacral Treatment for Children . . . 29
- 5. Basic Elements and Healing Impulses in the Craniosacral Treatment of Children . . . 35
- 6. What Is the Purpose of Craniosacral Treatment for Children? . . . 39
- 7. Who Should Give Craniosacral Treatment to Children? . . . 47
- 8. Parents and Children and Their Changed Environment in the Twenty-First Century . . . 49

PART TWO

and Development 51
CONCEPTION
9. The Unfulfilled Desire to Have Children 53
PREGNANCY
10. The Pregnancy 61
11. The Prenatal Period: From Conception to Mature Fetus 81
12. Bonding during Pregnancy 93
BIRTH Healing Impulses Harmon HTRIB
13. Presentation and the Birth Process 101
14. How the Child Experiences Birth 109
15. Difficult Births 119
DEVELOPMENT
16. Development of the Child from Birth to around Age Five 133
17. Bonding after Birth and during Child Development 139
18. Anatomy, Neuroanatomy, and Neurophysiology

for Craniosacral Work . . . 157

20. Further Considerations

19. Treatment of Mother and Child after Birth . . . 181

during the Child's Development . . . 193

PART THREE

<ul> <li>21. The Miracle of Self-Healing 227</li> <li>22. Principles of Noninvasive Craniosacral Therapy for Children 239</li> <li>23. General and Craniosacral-Specific Assessment 293</li> <li>24. Differing Treatment Approaches and Different Rhythms as Expression of the Breath of Life 311</li> <li>25. Approaches to Release Following Shock and Trauma 321</li> <li>26. Basic Principles and Practice Tips 329</li> <li>27. Treatment Options for Use by Midwives, Pediatric Nurses, Special-Needs Teachers, and Other Health Care Professionals 343</li> <li>28. For Fully Qualified Craniosacral Practitioners 359</li> <li>29. Healing Touch for Children with Physical or Mental Disabilities 405</li> <li>30. Selected Indications, with Pointers for Craniosacral Therapy 411</li> <li>PART FOUR</li> </ul>	Elements, Assessments, and Practice 225
for Children 239  23. General and Craniosacral-Specific Assessment 293  24. Differing Treatment Approaches and Different Rhythms as Expression of the Breath of Life 311  25. Approaches to Release Following Shock and Trauma 321  26. Basic Principles and Practice Tips 329  27. Treatment Options for Use by Midwives, Pediatric Nurses, Special-Needs Teachers, and Other Health Care Professionals 343  28. For Fully Qualified Craniosacral Practitioners 359  29. Healing Touch for Children with Physical or Mental Disabilities 405  30. Selected Indications, with Pointers for Craniosacral Therapy 411	21. The Miracle of Self-Healing 227
<ul> <li>24. Differing Treatment Approaches and Different Rhythms as Expression of the Breath of Life 311</li> <li>25. Approaches to Release Following Shock and Trauma 321</li> <li>26. Basic Principles and Practice Tips 329</li> <li>27. Treatment Options for Use by Midwives, Pediatric Nurses, Special-Needs Teachers, and Other Health Care Professionals 343</li> <li>28. For Fully Qualified Craniosacral Practitioners 359</li> <li>29. Healing Touch for Children with Physical or Mental Disabilities 405</li> <li>30. Selected Indications, with Pointers for Craniosacral Therapy 411</li> </ul>
as Expression of the Breath of Life 311  25. Approaches to Release Following Shock and Trauma 321  26. Basic Principles and Practice Tips 329  27. Treatment Options for Use by Midwives, Pediatric Nurses, Special-Needs Teachers, and Other Health Care Professionals 343  28. For Fully Qualified Craniosacral Practitioners 359  29. Healing Touch for Children with Physical or Mental Disabilities 405  30. Selected Indications, with Pointers for Craniosacral Therapy 411	23. General and Craniosacral-Specific Assessment 293
<ul> <li>26. Basic Principles and Practice Tips 329</li> <li>27. Treatment Options for Use by Midwives, Pediatric Nurses, Special-Needs Teachers, and Other Health Care Professionals 343</li> <li>28. For Fully Qualified Craniosacral Practitioners 359</li> <li>29. Healing Touch for Children with Physical or Mental Disabilities 405</li> <li>30. Selected Indications, with Pointers for Craniosacral Therapy 411</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>27. Treatment Options for Use by Midwives, Pediatric Nurses, Special-Needs Teachers, and Other Health Care Professionals 343</li> <li>28. For Fully Qualified Craniosacral Practitioners 359</li> <li>29. Healing Touch for Children with Physical or Mental Disabilities 405</li> <li>30. Selected Indications, with Pointers for Craniosacral Therapy 411</li> </ul>	25. Approaches to Release Following Shock and Trauma 321
Pediatric Nurses, Special-Needs Teachers, and Other Health Care Professionals 343  28. For Fully Qualified Craniosacral Practitioners 359  29. Healing Touch for Children with Physical or Mental Disabilities 405  30. Selected Indications, with Pointers for Craniosacral Therapy 411	26. Basic Principles and Practice Tips 329
<ul> <li>29. Healing Touch for Children with Physical or Mental Disabilities 405</li> <li>30. Selected Indications, with Pointers for Craniosacral Therapy 411</li> </ul>	Pediatric Nurses, Special-Needs Teachers, or Mental Disabilities 405  30. Selected Indications, with Pointers for Craniosacral Therapy 411	28. For Fully Qualified Craniosacral Practitioners 359
for Craniosacral Therapy 411
PART FOUR	아이는
	PART FOUR

Treatment Examples ... 435

Appendix: Cranial Nerves . . . 469 Glossary ... 475 Online Resources . . . 485 Notes . . . 487 Bibliography . . . 495 Index . . . 503 About the Author . . . 517