

CONTENTS

	Page
INTRODUCTION	5
HOW TO USE THIS BOOK	6
CHAPTER 1
Young people from 11 to 15	7
Basic concepts	9
The main development tasks between the ages of 11 and 15	12
A profile of girls and boys by dimensions of the personality	17
Other aspects	20
CHAPTER 2
Symbolic framework	25
Symbols	27
The taste for exploration	31
Interest in taking over a territory	42
Belonging to a peer group	48
The symbolic framework in action	53
CHAPTER 3
The Patrol	57
Basic concepts	59
The patrol as an informal group	62
The patrol as a learning community	77
CHAPTER 4
The elements of the Scout Method: group life	89
The elements of the Scout Method	91
Group life	95
CHAPTER 5
The Scout Unit	99
The nature of the Scout Unit	101
The structure of the Scout Unit	108
Identity of the Scout Unit	114
CHAPTER 6
Law and Promise	117
Scouting's educational proposal	119
The Scout Law	121
Some reflections on the Scout Law	127
The Scout Promise	137

CONTENTS

	Page
CHAPTER 7
The role of the Scout Leaders	145
Scout leaders	147
Scout leaders as educators	160
CHAPTER 8
The growth areas	167
The dimensions of the personality	169
Considerations on the growth areas	174
CHAPTER 9
The educational objectives	191
The nature of the educational objectives	193
The proposal of objectives	202
The progress stages	220
CHAPTER 10
The educational activities	225
Objectives, activities and experiences	227
Types of activities	230
The fixed activities	235
The variable activities	247
The proficiencies	254
CHAPTER 11
Assessing personal development	261
The introductory period	263
Monitoring personal progress	272
Conclusions of the personal progress assessment	278
CHAPTER 12
The programme cycle	283
General concepts	285
Unit analysis	290
Proposing and selecting activities	296
Organizing, designing and preparing the activities	303
Carrying out and evaluating the activities	312
GLOSSARY	323
THE AUTHORS	335