

CONTENTS

Jaroslav P á n e k Foreword	7
Robert B. P y n s e n t Czech Nationalism after Dalimil and before Huss	9
František Š m a h e l The English Rising of 1381, Wyclif and Lollards in the Czech point of view	35
Anne H u d s o n Aspects of Tradition in English Wycliffism	53
Eva D o l e ž a l o v á National and religious aspects of the Czech reform movement in the 14 th and 15 th centuries and of the Hussite revolution in the mirror of Western historiography	63
Martyn R a d y Jiskra, Hussitism and Slovakia	77
Robert Š i m ů n e k Toleration from necessity or from indifference? The role of faith in South Bohemia in the late Middle Ages	91
Petr V o r e l Nationality and confession in the political life under the Jagiellonian dynasty (Contribution by Vilém of Pernštejn to the formation of a new societal model)	113
C. Scott D i x o n Martin Luther and the German Nation: The Reformation and the Roots of Nationalism	123

Jaroslav P á n e k
Nation and Confession in the Czech Lands in the pre-White Mountain Period	139
R. J. W. E v a n s
Language and Politics: Bohemia in International Context, 1409–1627	155
Jaroslav M i l l e r
Legitimizing War: National Past as an Instrument of Protestant Propa- ganda in England and the Holy Roman Empire	183
Eva K o w a l s k á
Confessional Exile and National Identity: The Slovak Case	197
Svatava R a k o v á
Toleration as Principle or Necessity? The Case of the British Colonies in Seventeenth Century North America.....	209
Index.....	229