

YOUR OPPORTUNITY—Introduction 1-2

The two types of homes—how Cub Scouting helps make a finer home—the community service of den mothers and den leaders—the satisfactions of helping boys.

PART I—YOU AND YOUR DEN 3-20

1. WHAT CUB SCOUTING IS ALL ABOUT 4-9

Purposes of Cub Scouting—its methods—age requirement—den mother's assistants in the den—organization of a pack—the stimulus of the advancement plan.

2. HOW THE DEN WORKS 10-15

The organization of a typical den—its leaders and their responsibilities—recommended size for a den.

3. THE DEN MEETING PLACE 16-20

The importance of a permanent meeting place—possibilities for meeting places in any home—furnishing the den—asking help from parents to fix up the meeting place.

PART II—YOUR DEN MEETING 21-104

4. HOW TO RUN IT 22-27

Importance of “bounce” from den meeting to home—length of the meeting—discipline in the den—controlling the boys with balanced program—getting attention.

5. A TYPICAL MEETING 28-41

Seven parts of the den meeting—what each part includes—starting the theme in the den—where ideas for activities come from—outlines for a month's den meetings.

6. CEREMONIES 42-53

Use of ceremonies and their importance in Cub Scouting—tips for planning den ceremonies—suggested ceremonies for opening, birthdays, new members, transfers to Webelos den, patriotism, advancement, and closing.

7. SONGS AND YELLS 54-63

Use of songs and yells to release boys' energy—hints for song leaders—greeting songs, songs about Cub Scouting, fun songs, rounds, action songs, advancement and graduation songs, patriotic songs, farewell songs, theme songs—how to compose yells—sample yells.

8. GAMES 64-79

Importance of games in den meetings—using den chief as games leader—six types of games—samples of playways, indoor games, homemade games, outdoor games, dual contests, and games related to themes.

9. HANDICRAFT 80-89

Purpose of handicraft in Cub Scouting—encouraging creative urge—tying craftwork to the monthly theme—finishing craft projects at home with fathers—competition in crafts—how much to expect from a boy—necessary tools and materials—sources for ideas and plans.

10. STUNTS AND SKITS 90-97

Basing stunts and skits on the theme—preparing a skit—making it fun—the use of puppets—preparing a stunt—the simplicity of pantomime—sample stunts.

11. TRICKS AND PUZZLES 98-104

The value of tricks and puzzles at den meetings—sample tricks and puzzles—sources for tricks and puzzles.

PART III—ON THE CUB SCOUT TRAIL 105-58

12. THE PACK MEETING 106-11

Purposes of the pack meeting—the time and place—parts of a pack meeting—activities during gathering period and main part of meeting—annual parents' pack meeting—den mother's part in the pack meeting.

13. YOUR PROGRAM—WHO PLANS IT 112-21

Three program planning meetings—den mother's role in each—den leader coach as aid to planning for dens—the summer program for dens and pack—Cub Scouting in the outdoors—safe-swim plan.

14. THE OBJECTIVES OF CUB SCOUTING 122-27

Equipping boys for a richer life—the ideals of Cub Scouting and how they become meaningful—the Cub Scout Promise, Law of the Pack, sign, handshake, motto, salute, living circle, code, and the word Webelos.

15. THE ADVANCEMENT PLAN 128-37

Purpose of the advancement plan—den mother's part in making it work—Cub Scouting ranks tied to age of the boy—repeating electives—helping parents with Cub

Scout advancement—use of Cub Den Advancement Chart and den doodles to spur advancement.

16. YOUR DEN RECORDS AND FINANCES 138-47

Den record forms explained and illustrated—financing the pack and den.

17. UNIFORMS AND INSIGNIA 148-58

How uniform helps make better Cub Scouts—meaning of the colors—when the uniform should not be worn—how den mother can promote wearing of the uniform—badges and other insignia—den mother's uniform.

PART IV—WORKING WITH OTHERS 159-93

18. YOU AND YOUR DEN CHIEF 160-65

Why it is important to have a den chief—how much to expect from him—achieving a good working relationship—recognizing the den chief—dividing duties with him—recruiting a den chief—his length of service.

19. YOU AND THE DEN LEADER COACH 166-69

The reason for having a den leader coach—the coach's chief duties—how the coach aids new den mothers—the coach as ideas source and confidante on den problems.

20. YOU AND THE PARENTS 170-77

The parents' responsibilities in Cub Scouting—getting off on the right foot—how to get help from parents—ways they can help the den and pack—den parents' meetings.

21. YOUR TRAINING OPPORTUNITY 178-82

The value of training—the four training sessions for den mothers—Cub Scout leaders' annual pow wow—Den Leader's Training Award.

PART V—DEN LEADER'S LORE 183-93

22. HISTORY OF CUB SCOUTING 184-89

Cub Scouting's roots in book by Baden-Powell—unknown Scout's Good Turn to William D. Boyce in 1910—Cub Scouting's beginnings in the United States.

23. HELPS FOR YOU 190-93

Listing of books, pamphlets, magazines, and forms useful to den mothers.