1 Introduction	1
1.1 The Ambiguous Character of Language	1
1.2 Two Notions of Logic	3
1.3 Historical Perspective	4
1.4 The Ineffability of Semantics	5
1.5 Logic as 'Übersichtliche Darstellung'	6
2 Axiomatization	9
2.1 Frege's Program	9
2.2 Logico-Grammatical Analysis	11
2.3 Regimentation	13
2.4 Classical Logic as Means of Regimentation	14
2.5 Abstraction	18
2.6 Logical Form and Logical Truth	19
2.7 Formal Calculi and Axiomatic Systems	21
2.8 Material Interpretation	23
3 Interpretation	25
3.1 Tarski's Proposal	25
3.2 From Substitution to Satisfaction	27
3.3 The Logical and the Extralogical	28
3.4 An Algebraic Perspective	30
3.5 Model Theory	31
3.6 Models as Representations	34
3.7 Models as Auxiliaries	36
3.8 Formal Soundness and Completeness	37
3.9 Model Theory vs. Proof Theory	39
4 Truth	40
4.1 Tarski's Notion	40
4.2 Conditional Truth	41
4.3 The Correspondence Theory	44
4.4 The Primacy of Truth	46
