

Contents

	Page
Why Consider Opposing Viewpoints?	9
Introduction	12
Chapter 1: The Social Fabric of America: What Is Its Future?
Chapter Preface	16
1. Technology Will Strengthen the Traditional Family Christopher J. Check	17
2. The Traditional Family Will Be Less Prevalent Claudia Wallis	25
3. A Vision of Revitalized Education David Pesanelli	31
4. A Vision of Declining Education George H. Jacobson	36
5. Immigrants Will Strengthen America's Future Peter Francese	43
6. Immigrants Will Weaken America's Future Joseph F. Coates	49
7. The Aging of America: Alternative Visions Walter A. Hahn	56
8. Ethics for the Twenty-First Century Rushworth M. Kidder	65
Periodical Bibliography	70
Chapter 2: Technological Change: How Fast and to What End?
Chapter Preface	72
1. Technology Can Secure America's Future Andrew Pollack et al.	73
2. Technology Can Be Damaging Chellis Glendinning	82
3. Information Technology Is Revolutionary William E. Halal	89
4. Information Technology Is Not Revolutionary Tom Forester	98
5. Technology Rapidly Changes Society Alvin Toffler & Heidi Toffler	107
6. Technology Slowly Changes Society Nicholas Wade	112

7. Information Technology Workers, 2010 Andy Hines	116
8. Information Technology Criminals, 2010 Richter H. Moore Jr.	125
Periodical Bibliography	134
Chapter 3: What Will Become of America's Economy?
Chapter Preface	136
1. The Global Economy Is Real Tom Peters	137
2. The Global Economy Is Largely Myth Alan Farnham	144
3. Entitlement Programs Are Sustainable Daniel Patrick Moynihan	151
4. Entitlement Programs Are Not Sustainable Bipartisan Commission on Entitlement and Tax Reform	155
5. America Needs an Industrial Policy Hazel Henderson	161
6. America Does Not Need an Industrial Policy Karl Zinsmeister	165
7. America's Economy May Become Intensely Regulated Alfred L. Malabre Jr.	170
8. Economic Scenarios: From Boom to Collapse Kenneth Labich	178
Periodical Bibliography	187
Chapter 4: The Ecological Environment: Sustainable or Not?
Chapter Preface	189
1. Sustainable Development Is Possible Al Gore	190
2. Sustainable Development Is Unlikely Donald Ludwig, Ray Hilborn & Carl Walters	197
3. The Future Looks Bright for Alternative Fuels Shawna Tracy & Roberta Stauffer	203
4. The Future Looks Dim for Alternative Fuels Len Frank & Dan McCosh	211
5. Greenhouse America: A Twenty-First-Century "Wild Card" Harold W. Bernard Jr.	218
6. Normal Weather: A Twenty-First-Century Trend Robert C. Balling Jr.	227
Periodical Bibliography	237

Chapter 5: America's Political Status: What Does the Future Hold?

Chapter Preface	239
1. America Is Becoming a Third World Country Edward N. Luttwak	240
2. America Is Not Becoming a Third World Country Robert L. Bartley	247
3. From Cold War to American Renaissance Marvin Cetron	256
4. From Cold War to Cold Peace Jeffrey E. Garten	266
5. The Coming of the Information Revolution Alvin Toffler & Heidi Toffler	275
6. The Potential Military Takeover of America Charles J. Dunlap Jr.	280
Periodical Bibliography	289
Glossary	290
For Further Discussion	292
Organizations to Contact	295
Bibliography of Books	300
Index	303