

Content

| | |
|---|-----|
| Introduction | 5 |
| Parallelism in prose | 11 |
| Wolf Schmid | |
| Reopening the “Closing statement”: Jakobson’s factors and functions in our Google Galaxy | 25 |
| Peter W. Nesselroth | |
| Elective Affinities: Roman Jakobson, Claude Lévi-Strauss and his Antropologie Structurale | 37 |
| Andrew Lass | |
| Functional Semiotics of the Prague School: Functional Semiotics and New Narratology | 55 |
| Tomáš Kubíček | |
| Roman Jakobson’s work on poetic language from the point of view of the revival of rhetoric in the 20th century | 65 |
| Jiří Kraus | |
| HABENT SUA FATA INVENTIONES . The Role of Czechoslovakian Slavistics in the Forming of the Parry-Lord Oral-Formulaic Theory | 77 |
| Sylva Fischerová | |
| Words that refer to their utterance: Jakobson and Benveniste on shifters | 103 |
| Eva Krásová | |
| Janua linguarum or At the beginning was the word | 121 |
| Božena Bednaříková | |
| Frequency of parts of speech in Adolf Heyduk’s poetry | 133 |
| Petr Plecháč – Robert Ibrahim | |
| Roman Jakobson’s Research into Judeo-Czech | 145 |
| Robert Dittmann | |
| Jakobson’s Ruse: “Artifice” in the Context of Functional Aesthetics and Sign Theory | 155 |
| Richard Müller – Pavel Šidák | |
| “What is Poetry?” Reconsidered | 171 |
| David Skalický | |

Jakobson: The Experimental Stage and the Beginnings of Multimedia Theory.....183

Veronika Ambros

Roman Jakobson's "Semiotics of Fun": A Contribution to the Prague School's Theories of Drama and Theatre, and to a Conceptualization of Voskovec and Werich's "Free-floating" Comedy.....193

Eva Šlaisová

Conference program.....203