

REFERENCES:

TABLE OF CONTENTS:

INTRODUCTION	3
TABLE OF CONTENTS:	5
1. ECONOMIC HISTORY OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA (1918 - 1989)	11
1.1 The First Republic	11
1.1.1 Economic Development in the 1920s and 1930s	12
1.2 Protectorate	13
1.2.1 Political Development	13
1.2.2 Economic Policy	14
1.3 Situation after the Second World War (till 1948)	15
1.3.1 Political Development	15
1.3.2 Economic Development	15
1.4 Development after the Coup	16
1.5 The Socialistic Republic (1960 - 1989)	18
1.5.1 Political Development	18
1.5.2 Economic Development	18
REFERENCES	21
2. THE REFORM STEPS AND THE ECONOMIC POLICY	22
2.1 The Situation in 1989	22
2.2 The Political Development	24
2.3 The Transformation	25
2.3.1 The Disputes about the Strategy	25
2.4 The Transformation Process	26

2.4.1	1990 - 1993 – the Basic Steps of the Transformation	27
2.4.2	1994 – 1996 – the Phase of the Economic Growth	31
2.4.3	1997 – 1999 – the Phase of Recession	32
REFERENCES:		35
3. MACROECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT		36
3.1 The Output		36
3.1.1	1990 – 1992 the Transformation Decline	37
3.1.2	1993 – 1996 the Recovery and Boom	39
3.1.3	1997 – 1999 the Recession	41
3.1.4	2000 - the Recovery	42
3.2 Unemployment		42
3.3 Inflation		43
REFERENCES:		45
4. THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE FISCAL POLICY		46
4.1 Main Features of the Socialist Economy Related to the Fiscal Policy		46
4.1.1	Tax System	46
4.1.2	The State Budget	47
4.2 Fiscal Policy Between 1990 – 1992		49
4.3 Fiscal Policy under the Klaus (Conservative) Administration (1993 – 1997)		51
4.4 Fiscal Policy under the Zeman (Social Democratic) Administration (1998–2001)		54
4.5 Contemporary Problems of the Czech Public Finance		57
Appendix 1		58
Appendix 2		59
Appendix 3		60

REFERENCES:5. MONETARY POLICY OF TRANSFORMATION PROCESS

5.1	Transformation and consolidation of the banking sector	65
5.1.1	Banking system of socialist economy	66
5.1.2	Beginning of transformation in the banking sector	69
5.1.3	Boom of small private banks	71
5.1.4	Consolidation and privatisation	74
5.2	Relationship between the central bank and the government	77
5.2.1	Economic equilibrium and monetary and fiscal policy	77
5.2.2	The rate of central bank's independence	78
5.2.3	Socialist monobank until 1989	82
5.2.4	First stage: 1990 – 1992	82
5.2.5	Second stage: 1993 – up to the present	83
5.2.6	Last stage - EMU	84
5.3	Central bank's objectives and strategy	86
5.3.1	Conception of monetary policy objective	86
5.3.2	Fixed exchange rate 1989 - 1996	86
5.3.3	Controlling the quantity of money in circulation in the period of 1993 – 1997	87
5.3.4	Direct inflation targeting after 1997	88
5.3.5	First stage: using direct instruments	91
5.3.6	Second stage: using indirect instruments	92

REFERENCES:6. THE EXPLANATION OF THE MONETARY CRISIS IN 1997

6.1	The 1997 Monetary Crisis – Why did it Happen?	96
6.1.1	Overheating the Czech National Economy	96
6.1.2	Exchange Rate Regime	97
6.1.3	Influx of Foreign Capital and “Hot Money”	98
6.1.4	The Monetary Policy of the CNB	98

6.2	The Development of the Crisis	100
6.2.1	Symptoms of the On-Coming Shake-Off	100
6.2.2	The two Critical Weeks in May 1997 Day by Day	101
6.3	Some Important Consequences	103
6.3.1	Results of the Crisis Solution	103
6.3.2	The Governmental Breakdown	104
6.3.3	Changes in the Monetary Policy	104
Appendix - Two Antagonistic Explanations of the Crisis		104
REFERECES:		106
7.	THE TRANSITION PROCESS AND PRIVATIZATION OF CZECH ECONOMY	107
7.1	Transition Process	107
7.2	Privatization Process	109
7.2.1	The Organizational Structure	110
7.2.2	Overview of Privatization Programs	111
7.3	Summary	118
REFERENCES		119
8.	EXCHANGE RATE POLICY	121
8.1	Theory of Balance of Payments and Exchange Rate	121
8.2	Exchange Rate System in CPE	124
8.2.1	Nominal Exchange Rate in the 1945-1990 Period	124
8.2.2	Exchange rate at the outset of transformation	127
8.2.3	Strengthening Inflow of Foreign Capital	128
8.2.4	Monetary crisis from 1997	129
8.2.5	Development of Exchange Rate after the Crisis	131
8.2.6	Conclusion	131
8.3	Exchange Rate Development (data supplement)	132

REFERENCES:	133
9. PRICES AND INFLATION	134
9.1 Prices in Command Economy	134
9.2 Price Liberalization	136
9.3 Efficiency and Redistribution Effects of Price Liberalization	138
9.4 Inflation and Price Levels in 1992-2003	142
9.4.1 Period of Inertial inflation and Inflow of Foreign Capital	143
9.4.2 Monetary Crisis in 1997	144
9.4.3 Sharp Decline in Inflation Rate	145
9.4.4 Conclusions	145
9.5 Inflation differential (data supplement)	147
REFERENCES:	148
10. CHANGES ON THE LABOUR MARKET	149
10.1 The Unemployment Development in the 1990s	149
10.1.1 Situation before 1990	149
10.1.2 Development till 1996	150
10.1.3 Development in 1997 – 2000	153
10.1.4 Unemployment Statistics	155
10.2 Czech Labour Market Characteristics	158
10.2.1 Factors of Low UNE and Labour Market Specifics in the Early 1990s	158
10.2.2 Factors of the Growing Unemployment since 1997	159
10.2.3 State Employment Policy	161
REFERENCES:	162
11. CZECH FOREIGN TRADE AFTER 1989	163
11.1 The situation before 1989	163

11.2	The Development of the International Trade	164
11.2.1	The Liberalization of the Trade	164
11.2.2	The Later Development	165
11.3	The Comparison of Changes in the International Trade	167
11.3.1	The Changes of the Volume	167
11.3.2	The Territorial Structure	167
11.3.3	The Commodity Structure	169
REFERENCES:		171
12.	THE ACCESSION PROCESS OF THE CZECH REPUBLIC	173
12.1	Position in the Transition Area in Central Europe	175
12.2	Pros and Cons	177
12.2.1	Competitiveness	177
12.2.2	Price Level Differences	178
12.2.3	Significant Advantages of Accession	180
12.3	Conditions for Successful Accession	180
12.4	Summary	182
REFERENCES		183
LIST OF TABLES		185
LIST OF CHARTS		187
INDEX		188