

OUTLINE CONTENTS

Detailed Contents

INTRODUCTION

PART I INTERNATIONAL SYSTEMS, WORLD HISTORY, AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS THEORY

- | | |
|--|------|
| | xiii |
| | 1 |
| 1 Systems, History, Theory, and the Study of International Relations | 17 |
| 2 Competing Conceptions of the International System | 35 |
| 3 Systemic Thinking in World History | 49 |
| 4 The Theoretical Toolkit of this Book | 68 |
| 5 Establishing Criteria for International Systems | 90 |

PART II SYSTEMS IN PRE-INTERNATIONAL WORLD HISTORY

- | | |
|--|-----|
| | 111 |
| 6 The Origins of Pre-international Systems | 115 |
| 7 The Transition from Pre-international to International Systems | 134 |
| Conclusion to Part II | 160 |

PART III THE RISE AND INTERLINKAGE OF MULTIPLE INTERNATIONAL SYSTEMS IN THE ANCIENT AND CLASSICAL WORLD

- | | |
|---|-----|
| | 163 |
| 8 The New Units: City-States, Empires, and Barbarians as the Main Actors of the Ancient and Classical World | 167 |
| 9 Interaction Capacity in Ancient and Classical International Systems | 190 |
| 10 Process in Ancient and Classical International Systems | 216 |
| 11 Structure in Ancient and Classical International Systems | 228 |
| Conclusion to Part III | 239 |

PART IV THE ESTABLISHMENT AND EVOLUTION OF A GLOBAL INTERNATIONAL SYSTEM	241
<hr/>
Introduction to Part IV	241
12 Units in the Modern International System	243
13 Interaction Capacity in the Modern International System	276
14 Process in the Modern International System	300
15 Structure in the Modern International System	330
Conclusion to Part IV	344
PART V SPECULATIONS, ASSESSMENTS, REFLECTIONS	347
<hr/>
Introduction to Part V	347
16 Outlook: A Postmodern International System?	349
17 What World History Tells us about International Relations Theory	369
18 What International Relations Theory Tells us about World History	386
19 Reflections	407
References	417
Glossary	440
Index	443